Bootheel farmers are top recipients of U.S. subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big producers in the cotton and soybean area of southeast Missouri were the main benefactors of federal farm subsidies in 1972.

The names of 283 Missouri farmers who got $20,000 or more for curtailing crops and complying with soil conservation practices were printed in the Congressional Record.

Six counties in the southeast Missouri bootheel accounted for 187 of the 283 listings. They also got almost $5.6 million of the $8.5 million provided by subsidies of $20,000 or more.

New Madrid County had 54 recipients who got a total of almost $1.6 million. Pemiscot was close behind with 42 payments totaling $1.2 million. Dunklin got $530,237, Stoddard $644,717, Scott $489,184 and Mississippi County just over $1 million.

The largest subsidy payment listed was $75,702 for Marshall Lands Inc. in Mississippi County. Mahan and Radcliffe, in Stoddard County, got $73,694.

Truck overturns after highway crash

This tractor- trailer truck loaded with sweet corn overturned at 11:10 p.m. Thursday on Interstate 57 one mile east of Bertrand after it was struck by a car driven by Charlie Williams, 27, of Chicago. The truck driver, Nelson Ulrich, 45, of Gordonville, received cuts and bruises and was treated at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston. (Daily Standard photo by Tim Ludwig)

7 injured in 5 SeMo accidents

Seven persons were injured Thursday in five traffic accidents on area roads, the highway patrol said today.

A tractor- trailer truck loaded with crates of sweet corn and a car collided at 11:10 p.m. on Interstate 57 one mile east of Bertrand, injuring the truck driver.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Charlie Williams, 27, of Chicago, traveling at a high rate of speed, ran off the road, came back onto the road and struck the tractor- trailer rig driven by Nelson Ulrich, 45, of Gordonville. The truck then went into a spin and overturned.

A passenger, Naomi Roberts, 16, of Leachville, Ark., suffered bruises. Both were taken to a Paragould, Ark., hospital.

Three vehicles collided at 4:15 p.m. 10 miles south of Poplar Bluff, injuring one passenger.

The accident occurred when an unidentified vehicle attempted to pass a car driven by Joann Ovitt, 26, of Harviell and a road machinery vehicle driven by James Hargrove, 50, of Kennett.

The unidentified vehicle forced an oncoming car driven by George Nelson, 59, of Worth, Ill., off the road. Nelson lost control of his car, came back onto the road and struck the Ovitt car and the road machinery vehicle.

Jeanette Nelson, 57, of Worth, a passenger in the Nelson auto, received minor injuries and was taken to Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Jerry Avan, 7, of Hayti suffered minor injuries at 7:30 p.m. when his bicycle was struck on Second Street in Hayti Heights by a car driven by Ed Franks, 74, of Hayti Heights.

Wiley Luckett, 33, of Torrance, Calif., received head cuts at 8:15 a.m. when his tractor- trailer truck ran off Highway 61 three miles south of Hayti and overturned.

A passenger, Ray Steimly, 28, of Lakewood, Calif., suffered internal injuries. Both were taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti.

James Reeves named acting U.S. attorney

ST. LOUIS (AP)--A prominent southeast Missouri Democrat has been named acting U.S. attorney here to succeed Daniel J. Bartlett Jr.

James E. Reeves, a Caruthersville, Mo., lawyer, will be sworn in Monday by Judge James H. Meredith of U.S. District Court. He will take over the U.S. attorney's post Tuesday, the effective date of Bartlett's resignation.

Reeves, 45, served as acting attorney in St. Louis in 1969 also prior to the appointment of Bartlett, who will join a private St. Louis law firm.

Meredith said an interim attorney was necessary to handle prosecutions until a permanent appointment is made.

Donald J. Stohr, a former St. Louis city counselor, is considered the leading candidate for the permanent job. He has received the endorsement of the state Republican Appointments Committee and of Missouri's only Republican Congressman, Rep. Gene Taylor of Sarcoxie.

Charges filed against Hyde

Charges were filed by the prosecuting attorney's office late Thursday afternoon against Walter Hyde, 25, of 611 Dorothy St. for statutory rape and attempted statutory rape following alleged assaults upon two teen- age girls.

Hyde was arrested Wednesday after the girls, ages 15 and 13, said Hyde assaulted them after offering them rides to school in separate incidents.

For economic development

Local funding urged

The Bootheel Regional Planning Commission was advised Thursday night to seek local funds for economic development by Alfred Sikes of Jefferson City, state director of the Department of Community Affairs, in a meeting at Ramada Inn.

Sikes, 33, is originally from Sikeston and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Sikes of 507 N. Kingshighway. He was appointed by Gov. Christopher S. Bond to head the Department of Community Affairs in January. Sikes managed Bond's successful election campaign and formerly served as assistant attorney general under Atty. Gen. John Danforth for three years.

Sikes and his wife, the former Martha Pagenkopf, have three children, Deborah, 9, Christine, 7, and Marcia, 3.

Sikes told the Malden-based planning group that the people of the area should develop a strong regional program with funds from local sources and said state and federal funds should be considered a windfall and should not be depended upon.

Alfred C. Sikes

The Economic Development Council of Bootheel Regional Planning Commission originated over a year ago and, although there are enough funds in the program for staffing, there are insufficient funds to maintain extra expenses.

Sikes spoke candidly to the group, suggesting that they ask themselves a few questions about efforts for industrial development.

"Competition is keen in industrial acquisition," Sikes said. "For every 500 plants, there are more than 5,000 industrial development programs trying to acquire them."

Sikes continued that, although the Bootheel is in strategic location in the nation with such assets as a strong work ethic, excellent quality of living and good higher education facilities, there are a number of areas with qualities just as good.

"What separates one area from another?" Sikes asked. "Intangibles. Those striving to attain industries must present an extremely attractive package."

The quality of the area is important, Sikes said, but a community should not only have country clubs and cultural activities but also programs and projects for people on the lower level of the socio- economic scale.

Sikes applauded the combining of resources, commenting that a number of communities cannot afford to have an industrial acquisition program. Regional efforts are needed, according to Sikes, who cited the successful efforts of regional solid waste plans and regional jails.

"Continue to think in regional operations," urged Sikes.

When asked in a question and answer period if any program is available in federal or state governments to assist industrial development, Sikes stated no such bill is now before legislature and that there would probably be no change in state financial assistancce this fiscal year.

Sikes was asked if there are any restrictions for spending revenue- sharing money for industrial development. He answered that he knows of none.

Sikes was also asked about Senate Bill 68 which would grant $25,000 in

Court rejects highest bid on deposits

BENTON — Scott County Court Monday designated First National Bank of Sikeston as the main depository and clearing house for county funds.

The County Court can accept the highest and best bid submitted, but does not necessarily have to accept the highest and may choose the one the court decides is best for the county.

First National Bank will receive the county collector's funds and three equal parts of the county treasurer's deposits. Bank of Sikeston was awarded two parts of the county treasurer's fund and Security National Bank will receive one part.

The three banks have agreed to pay 10.02 per cent interest on time deposits of more than $100,000 deposited from 30 to 89 days. Previously the banks have paid 8.02 percent interest.

Interest rates on deposits from 90 to 179 days will be 6.75 percent and will rise to 7 per cent on lengths of time from 180 days to one year, and is 7.5 percent on deposits of more than one year.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Steve Taylor who acted as legal advisor to the County Court on the selection of the county depository, said the new rate is the highest interest rate ever to be earned by the County Court on deposits.

It was brought out that, in First National Bank's bid, the bank offered an interest rate on daily balances, single maturity, time deposits of $100,000 or more for "the county collector's fund" and six equal parts, an interest rate of 16.88 per cent.

This meant that First National would have paid this interest rate if all the county funds had been deposited in its bank with a balance of $100,000 or more. Money deposited in this manner would have resulted in several thousand dollars additional interest to the county.

The court felt, however, the best way was to continue as it had in the past (placing funds in more than one bank) and not accept or take advantage of the 16.88 interest being offered.

In regard to why the County Court would not accept the 16.88 percent interest to earn more money for the county, Presiding Judge Les Lankford said he did not see why anyone would criticize the court decision to split the money between the banks in Sikeston when some of the banks in the county were not receiving any portion of the money.

Although Lankford added that the court might place some of the County's revenue- sharing money in different banks around the county, except for the Bank of Illmo which has the county library funds. Lankford also added that in Sikeston and Chaffee they already have money deposited in savings and loan associations. He said the court will ask for the same amount of interest on that money as it will receive from the banks in Sikeston.

Lankford said the 10.02 per cent interest was the highest interest in the state he knows of and that other counties do not have it as

OF SERVITUDE

Saturday, May 12th was an unsual day. That was the day in 1971 when the average American taxpayer finally quit working for the government and began working for himself. From January 1 until May 9 -- over four months -- every dollar he earned would be required to pay taxes on his earnings for the year. Stated in another way, the average American taxpayer worked two hours and 49 minutes out of an eight-hour day just to pay his tax bills.

If this is not chilling enough, consider then the following figures; half of the federal individual income tax in the United States is paid by persons earning between $5,000 and $15,000 a year. It took the U. S. government 186 years to reach its first $100 billion budget -- and only nine years to reach $200 billion. The interest on the federal debt today is $20 billion -- more than the entire cost of operating the federal government only 29 years ago in 1941. State and local governmental revenues are going up at the rate of approximately 12 percent a year and will double in less than seven years. The $201 billion federal budget for 1972 will cost every individual in the United States, from the newborn baby to the oldest centenarian, almost $1,000 -- to be exact, $980. In spite of all this, the old fallacy still persists that a handout from Uncle Sam is free.

Leave well enough alone. Heaven knows, it's bad enough as it is without messing around with it.

What has become of the old fashioned people who called chewing gum wax?

We have been doing some tax calculations lately because we've been somewhat irked to find that federal employes and many other state and local governments employes are allowed more time off and holidays than workers in private enterprises enjoy.

We figure that our salary from January through May would go to pay our federal taxes: income, and excise levies on air transportation, automobiles, telephone calls, tobacco, alcohol, gasoline, tires and other things.

We also figured we would work during June and July to pay state and local taxes: state income, real property, intangible, gasoline, state sales, county sales, tobacco, and alcohol, and sundry licenses and fees that none of us can really keep in mind.

But for the first five months, we were working to support the federal government. That makes us federal employes. Right?

So we figure that as a worker for the federal government, we should henceforth observe their hours and holidays. Although our boss doesn't agree with this, we hold that our stand for equality for those who work to support the federal, state and local governments with those directly on the government payroll is entirely logical.

And who knows? When we die, maybe they'll declare a national holiday. And all of you will get another day off.

"And what did he get?"

"Two years."

LESSON IN ECONOMICS

The current recession, although mild measured by previous pauses in the nation's growth, lends emphasis to one economic fact of life. Contrary to the school of dreamers that sees something evil in the idea of business making a profit, the moment profits start to decline, the first to be hit in this era of high taxation are the tax revenues that provide the lifeblood of a welfare state. U. S. Treasury Secretary Kennedy predicted sometime ago that there would almost surely be a budget defict in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1970, and observed that there is not much that can be done about lower corporate tax receipts since the drop in corporate profits is a necessary part of controlling inflation.

This little lesson in economics should not be lost on those who profess to see no relationship between business profits and government spending capability -- to say nothing of the bearing which profits have on the jobs and living standards of more than 200 million U. S. citizens. Preservation of the right to profit from ones' efforts, whether individual or corporate, is the starting point of all human endeavor.

TOO MUCH
REGULATION?

Regulation of an industry can be carried far beyond the point of serving the public interest. Such may be the case with the U. S. pharmaceutical industry. The New York Stock Exchange magazine reports tha the drug industry faces problems; among them the increasing difficulty in bringing drugs successfully to market. The equipment and research and testing techniques have grown more expensive, and demands on the staff of the Food and Drug Administration have resulted in a slowdown of new- product review. Consequently, according to The Exchange magazine, a number of major drug companies are diversifying into other lines. These include: home cleaning products, thermal pollution control equipment and dietary foods for dogs and cats.

Diversification, in many instances, is a healthy development. But, when a company is forced to diversify by the sheer weight of inhibiting legislative restrictions and a never ending prospect of abuse from investigators, there is something wrong. It could be catastrophic when such a company is a producer of lifesaving miracle drugs, and its laboratories are part of a research - oriented industry on which the public must depend for the scientific breakthroughs that advance standards of health care for all people.

What many fail to realize is that a taxpaying, investor - owned enterprise, including a drug manufacturer, must earn a profit as the first condition of responding to its other obligations - - obligations to the public, to stockholders and employees. The prescription drug industry has poured millions of dollars into research. Profits have made this research possible. Drug industry diversification may help to assure future profits and growth in a vital enterprise -- in spite of political harassment.

SAFETY AFLOAT

The weeks of summer are upon us; and, in the warm days to come, tens of millions of people will find relaxation and enjoyment in, on or around the water. Some 42 million Americans will take to the water in small boats.

The National Director of the Red Cross Safety Programs has suggested a number of rules which should be observed by all individuals who operate small boats or plan to ride in them as passengers. Every boat should be equipped with such safety equipment as approved life jackets for every passenger, an anchor, extra line, fire extinguisher, tool kit and first aid kit. Boat operators should keep an eye on the weather and avoid the pitfalls of overpowering and overloading with passengers. A little forethought and care will make this summer afloat a happy and enjoyable one. Be prepared for every situation you can imagine and then be ready for the unexpected. Most important of all, if an emergency occurs -- think, don't panic. This is the basic rule for a happy ending to every story of fun afloat.

YOUTHFUL
SENILITY A study of the problems of growing old in America has turned up a bit of information on senility, which is supposedly one of the afflictions of age, that may explain the aberrations of some of our younger people. The study found that, "... senile traits are not peculiar to the aged. A group of college students and a group of the elderly were recently rated according to the characteristics of senility, and the students were found to be the more neurotic, negative, dissatisified, socially inept and unrealistic. The students, in sum, were more senile than their elders."

It is gratifying to discover that some of the more extreme exhibitionism and general hell raising among a minority of youths is not the work of imbeciles or communists, but rather symptoms of early senility.

MORE EFFECTIVE USE OF SCIENCE
IS URGED

"There is a desperate need for government and business to put science to work more effectively and more productively in determining priorities and formulating solutions for the vast problems facing the nation and the world, "Dr. Jesse Werner, president and chairman of GAF Corp., said in an address at the annual dinner meeting in New York of the Society of Chemical Industry.

Dr. Werner stated that putting science to work "would bring a sense of reality to the decision - making process for our country and would utilize the most pragmatic group whose talents have not yet been tapped for this purpose."

In discussing the formation of such a group, he said that it should be "independent politically and in all other ways."

"When I think of the resources of this group, I am not unmindful of the vast scientific capabilities of the companies that would be represented," Dr. Werner said. "All of this would be available to the country. It would place at the disposal of the government and the public sector a body of talent that has thus far been used primarily for private purpose."

SUPPORT THE POLICE

One of the most maligned professional men in the nation is the police officer. He has taken abuse on the streets that the average citizen would not endure. He has been spat upon by rioters. He has been cursed. He has been called "pig." Because of his fear of lenient court rulings he has taken all this and not struck back. He is afraid he will violate the civil rights of his molester.

Still he is the man who goes into the darkened building alone looking for the armed burglar. He is the man who stops a traffic offender who may have just robbed a drive-in grocery store. He is the man who attempts to "cool" riot-prone people with soft words. In a word, he is our friend. We should appreciate him. He is our first line of defense against violence. He is the man who may save our lives with mouth-to- mouth resuscitation.

The police officer deserves support. One way to do it is through the program of Law-Aid. Tell him he is doing a good job. Support his community activities, such as police athletic leagues. Give him tips on suspicious automobiles and persons. The information might prove useful. Aid him physically if he is under attack. There are many ways that we can let the men of the first line of defense know that we do appreciate them and are proud of their activities on our behalf.

There are many detractors of the police forces in our nation. True, some people have legitimate complaints, most of them of a minor nature. The real enemies, however, are those extreme leftists who would destroy us from within by breaking the spirit of the policemen. HLH

Inside White House:
Agnew Ready for Action
But Not For Window-Dressing

WASHINGTON— The Vice President can keep his cool, his temper and his timing. I recall one small luncheon discussion during which a globally famous newsman said, "Patriotism never should prevent the full reporting of a story regardless of consequences." Spiro (Ted) Agnew's reply was off the record. But it was moderate in tone albeit sharp in opinion.

The duel didn't last. The Secret Service whispered something. A bomb threat. He rose saying little except that it might be time to go. We rose. And his most bitter critics burst into applause--- and then returned to their studios to beat in his political brains for hours on end.

He had leveled with them. They with him. His private image sharply contrasted with the public picture etched on long journeys fulfilling political assignments for Mr. Nixon--- and Bob Haldeman and John Ehrlichman, too.

The latter two courtiers were specialists in turning Ted Agnew into the forgotten man between assignments. He has not forgotten. No one does. So despondent--- disgusted might be a better word-- did he become early in 1972 that he refused to consider running as Dick Nixon's running mate. Not out of disrespect for the President. But out of distaste and disrespect for the two men who attempted to isolate and cut him down.

For more than a week after the '72 election, for example, he did not see the President. Then he was invited to Camp David for a discussion of the reorganization of the second-term administration. Somehow, presidential counsel (at that time) John Dean 3d flew in, too.

Not much was changed on the Oval Room threshold. So it went until the sluice gates broke at Watergate. On Tuesday, May 1, the President--- after a long day of meeting with the "leadership" and the Cabinet--- invited Ted Agnew in for an hour- long discussion of White House reorganization. And on other matters, presumably.

Mr. Nixon sought Ted Agnew's expertise. This is in urban affairs, the specialty Haldeman and Ehrlichman turned off. The Vice President knows community relations as a reverend knows the gospel. Having been a labor lawyer, he knows the labor movement--- and many of its leaders by first name. He never got hung up (except as an image) on legislation and thus made no enemies.

And, though it is forgotten, it was not Labor Secretary Pete Brennan or any of the White House insiders who first got to the hard hats. It was Ted Agnew in the 1968 campaign. He drew massive crowds in Michigan's auto belt then as he did with boilermakers in the final weeks of the '72 campaign.

"Agnew probably strikes closer to the kind of people who voted for Nixon in the labor movement than any of the other Republicans," said one of the most knowledgeable labor officials. "He is the original hard- hat attraction. He got them long before that innter White House crowd discovered there are blue collars."

So Ted Agnew and Dick Nixon talked. The two courtiers who had tried to drive him from office and who had isolated him into despondency last year (so much so that he refused to agree to make any significant political moves until some 60 days before the Republican convention) were not around. Nor was that chap Dean.

The President urged him into activity; sought his advice on reorganizing the White House bureaucratic structure; put him on the quadriad (the economic high command); made him vice chairman of the Domestic Council--- once headed by Ehrlichman--- and recast the man the courtiers had tried to dump into limbo.

Ted Agnew is willing. But he is waiting. He wants to know who actually will be running the White House. Ted Agnew does not merely want to fill in for Ehrlichman. He's too shrewd a politico to move into the open before he knows exactly what his responsibilities will be and before he has the authority to exercise them.

He wants a specific delineation of authority. And he doesn't want to be window-dressing, say his friends. He wants to hit the domestic front. He knows it well. During both campaigns he's traveled some 100,000 miles. He was shrill at times and blew the whistle. But he went low-profile, soft and low- voiced when needed.

If his friends are correct, and I talk of his intimates, he has given no sign of wanting the 1976 presidential nomination. His wife wants out of politics. She dislikes the public glare.

So Ted Agnew, clean as a scrub nurse newly arrived on duty, awaits his newest assignments. The titles he has. Now he wants the quiet word from the President to go ahead. If he gets it, he becomes one of the administration's most influential men--- if not actually the most influential.

If John Connally overshadows him, with the consent of the President, Ted Agnew will play it cool, take his time, and leave politics to the power elite. And go into private practice. There's just nothing wrong with time for golf at Palm Springs. As for the administration--- loyalty, yes, window- dressing, no.

Anyone who has this sickness sympathizes with those women, often elderly, who make the news pages because they are found to have 20 or more cats in their house in violation of some city ordinance.

To be "feline prone" is to be loved by cats.

Thus a householder who likes these animals is in danger of having more around than he really wants. Take some recent neighborhood examples.

In one instance, a family down the block had an affectionate female alley version of the cat family. Then the family obtained a Siamese kitten.

This put Alley's nose out of joint, and the next morning we nearly tripped over her as we went to get the morning paper.

Alley stayed on the front stoop for about three days, meowing piteously and growing visibly thinner, a trick cats have when they want sympathy. At last some kind soul in the household gave her a snack.

Now she considers herself our cat, a constant companion on our doorstep except in bad weather when she finds her way into the garage.

We acquired another cat some years ago which we will call Rusty. He grew thinner by the minute. Still, we din't want to feed him and be accused of stealing the neighbor's animal.

But it finally became such a pitiful situation that occasionally a piece of scrap would fall accidentally out the door. And in no time at all, Rusty considered himself our cat.

It all started with a ceremony. The neighbor decided Rusty had fleas and invited all the neighborhood over for a defleaing party.

He had bought a tube of flea powder that emits a puff of medication when you squeeze it.

Rusty at that moment turned his head to see what was going on and got the first puff right in his mouth.

It was pure panic.

Rusty tried to get away and dug in his claws for traction. The neighbor tried to hold him and only got slashed some more.

Rusty made one great jump to a porch pillar, then to the roof and across it in a great circle, leaped to the ground and jumped an eight-foot fence. It was the last time the neighbor ever saw Rusty.

Went over the next afternoon to see how the neighbor was recovering and was met by his wife.

"He's sleeping right now," she said.

"Had to feed him a tranquilizer and put him to bed about 4 o'clock this morning.

"He was up all night, going up and down the alleys, calling, 'Kitty, kitty, kitty.'

"The police picked him up twice.

"If somebody doesn't find that cat, he's going to have to take a round of rabies shots."

So Rusty showed up at our house, but the only signs of madness came at feeding times. Turned out he went wild when the menu was sardines. —— Hal Boyle is ill —I End advance Fri. PMs May 11.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

Duffers' Delight

WASHINGTON— Representative Burt Talcott, R— Calif., the dapper sportsman from Salinas, is fond of lecturing his fellow congressmen on the rules of dress and decorum he thinks should be observed on the House floor.

Yet he didn't mind violating the rules of decorum to wangle prizes and trophies for the First Annual Congressional Golf Tournament last September. As chairman of the outdoor frolic, he helped put the squeeze on Washington's lobbyists for a cornucopia of valuable gifts.

Talcott wasn't deterred at first by warnings that we might find out about the flood of sports equipment, TV sets, windbreakers, gift certificates and shiny merchandise that the lobbyists were donating. Representative John Hunt, R-N.J., even warned in a personal memo to Talcott that playing the tournament in Washington might be "too risky. Remember Anderson."

We apologize for taking so long to dig out the details. We have now learned, however, that gifts poured in for the congressional golfers from the industries they are supposed to oversee-- Abbott Labs, American Can, Celanese, Fairchild Industries, General Tire, Goodrich, Goodyear, Gulf Oil, Humble Oil, Japan Air Lines, Lockheed, Magnavox, Marriott Hotels, Northrop, Northwest Orient, Olin, Ralston Purina, Raytheon, Squibb and Uniroyal.

COULDN'T REFUSE

Generous gifts were also donated by trade organizations representing the textile makers, chicken raisers, cattlemen and broadcasters. Even American-Standard in New York provided two gaily decorated toilet seats for some deserving congressman.

Talcott left it largely to his prize chairman, Rep. Roger Zion, R- Ind., to collect the boodle. The amiable Zion mailed out a letter to some 200 lobbyists, soliciting prizes in language they couldn't refuse.

"You have a great opportunity to promote your product (or industry) to your elected Representatives," wrote Zion on official House stationery. He told the lobbyists that he hoped each of the 80 or 90 congressional duffers would "come home with a prize or two... Would you please find some suitable prize (or prizes)... and send same to me at the above address."

Zion's office filled up with so many fancy prizes that Talcott began to get uneasy. Quietly, he called potential donors to urge them not to give any more and apologized to more scrupulous congressmen about the Zion letter.

Still, the gifts gushed in. Representative William Dickinson, R— Ala., wrung 11 windbreakers from the Russell Company. Senator Paul Fannin, R— Ariz., notified Talcott he had come up with a set of woods from Ping Manufacturing.

WILSON GOLF
BAGS

Representative Wiley Mayne, R- Iowa, reported he could wangle five golf bags from Wilson Sporting Goods if Talcott wanted them, although Mayne advised cautiously that "I personally don't think (it) would be a good idea" to let Wilson handle all sports prizes as Wilson had offered.

The hole- in- one chairman, Rep. John Rousselot, R- Calif., after failing to get Ford to "volunteer" a one- year free lease on a Pinto, approached the National Auto Dealers Association. He was referred to a car rental firm where he got the promise of a free three-month lease. But none of the congressmen got a hole- in-one.

Representative Harold Collier, R- Ill., arranged the tournament at famed Burning Tree, a private golf course. But he became so aghast over the solicitation of gifts that he cancelled it. The tournament wound up instead on the golf course at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, since the brass hats, like the lobbyists, were in no position to refuse.

After chewing up the fairways at Andrews, the congressmen made one last assault on the lobbyists' pocketbooks. They were invited to attend a gala cocktail party at the expense of the U.S. Independent Telephone Association.

Footnote: Talcott is again heading up the annual Congressional Golf Tournament, but he assured us there'll be no more "general solicitation." Said the rueful Talcott: "We've all learned something."

WASHINGTON WHIRL

MILLION— DOLLAR BRIBE? Representative Charles Rangel, D- N.Y., claims ITT's million- dollar offer to help finance a CIA sabotage operation against Chile's President Salvadore Allende was a bribe. In a letter to departing Attorney General Richard Kleindienst, Rangle, an attorney, wrote: "In my opinion, this offer of money to the CIA was a violation of the federal bribery statute. It is difficult for me to see how an offer of one million dollars to the government could be construed in any other way than as an inducement meant to influence a certain policy decision. I am quite puzzled by the lack of action on the part of federal prosecutors."

WATERGATE FRIENDSHIP: At least one long- standing friendship has withstood the test of Watergate. Spencer Oliver, the Democratic official whose phone was tapped by the Watergate bugging crew, remains on close personal terms with President Nixon's speech writer, Pat Buchanan. The two grew up together in Washington. Although they wound up at opposite political poles, they still meet at night and aruge their political differences over drinks. Incidentally, Buchanan has told Oliver he's convinced the President had no prior knowledge of the tap on Oliver's phone.

10 cases heard in City Court

Nineteen cases were brought before City Court Thursday night, but nine of them were continued for trial at a later date.

Court actions and fines included: Dennis Gene Burgess of Charleston, assault and battery, $85; Michael Don Williamson, 303 Lions, speeding, $15; Herman Hart, 107 Dudley, speeding, $35; Hershall Wheelis, 107 Adams, peace disturbance, $35; Thad Ed Campbell, 204 Wakefield, careless and imprudent driving, $15; Carl Edward Holifield, 201 Lions, public intoxication, forfeited bond of $19.

Cases continued to May 16 for trial:

Bill Bye, 216 Goode, allowing dog to run loose; Letta Smith Thompson, 215 Young, peace disturbance; Scott Smith Jr., 215 Young, peace disturbance; Lawrence Carl Tate, 116 Kathleen, assault and battery and two counts of peace disturbance.

Thomas Craig McCoy, 1317 W. Murray Lane, peace disturbance; Ronnie Jackson, 626 W. Murray Lane (rear), peace disturbance; Dixie R. Butler, 815 Gulf, peace disturbance; Gary R. Darnall, Edmondston Street, peace disturbance, and Ulyss R. Ayers, 202 Edwards, driving while intoxicated, refusing a request of a police officer and disorderly conduct.

Price to be sentenced

BENTON— Parole was revoked for Danny Shyone Price of Sikeston Thursday in Circuit Court by Judge Marshall Craig and Price was ordered to serve a previous one- year jail sentence handed down to him on Jan. 25 for stealing a tape player and tapes from Charles Lewis on Sept. 25.

Price had been placed on two years probation on Feb. 22 on condition he would not violate the law or associate with any one who did.

Prosecuting Attorney Jim Moore said probation for Price was revoked because he pleaded guilty to charges brought against him for stealing from Lewis Furniture Co. on March 20, three black and white television sets, one tape deck, one amplifier and record player. Price will report back before Judge Craig on May 24 for sentencing, which is now being taken under advisement.

Danny Lewis appeared in court for sentencing after pleading guilty on April 12 to charges of burglary and stealing at Jolly's Feed Barn Restaurant in Blodgett on Feb. 16. The court ordered a presentence investigation be made on Lewis to see if he might be suitable for probation. The Court continued his case until June 14 for further consideration.

Punishment was taken under advisement for Johnny Ray Wyatt of Morley and he was ordered to report back on June 14 for sentencing. The court ordered a presentence investigation be made on Wyatt.

Wyatt is charged with burglary and stealing of Jolly's Feed Barn Restaurant in Blodgett on Feb. 16.

Case was continued until May 24 for Nancy Mason on a nonsupport charge against T. Jo Mason.

House passes patrol bill

JEFFERSON CITY— Sikeston moved one step closer Thursday to receiving a highway patrol substation when the Missouri House of Representatives passed a bill to expand the size of the patrol.

Rep. C.F. Cline, Sikeston Democrat, said the bill, which passed 146- 2, now goes to the Senate where it faces little or no opposition.

The bill was part of a compromise solution to the controversy over the construction of a new highway patrol headquarters in Troop E. Sikeston was chosen as the location, but the patrol reversed itself when Col. Sam Smith replaced Col. E.I. Hockaday as patrol commander.

Motorcyclist hurt

Terry Dewayne Gramling, 228 Harry St., was injured about 11 a.m. Thursday when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile at the intersection of East Malone Avenue and Ingram Road.

Police said it took more than 20 minutes for an ambulance to arrive at the scene after the call had been placed. Gramling was taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital with injuries of the left hip and right leg.

Willard C. Ables, 2200 Ables Road, driver of the car which struck Gramling, told police he looked down the road but didn't see the cycle before he pulled across Malone. Ables was going south on Ingram.

Gramling told police he saw the Ables car but was unable to stop.

Police arrested Ables for careless and imprudent driving.

Other arrests announced today included Frank Doran Reed of Fredericktown, driving while intoxicated; Tom Robey, 232 Moore, public intoxication; Letha Sexton of Benton, careless and imprudent driving; and Claude Stroud, Buchannon Courts, Apt. 9, public intoxication.

East Prairie city council sets special election date

EAST PRAIRIE — A special election to fill a vacancy on the city council will be held June 11 and a primary election to narrow the field to two candidates has been set for June 4. The city council Thursday night set the election dates and announced the deadline for filing will be at 5 p.m., May 25.

Three candidates, Leondas Allen, Mrs Lawanda Douglas and Jack Tucker, have filed to date for the position left vacant by the late W. E. Moss. The term will expire April 2, 1974.

Following a report from councilman Jones Hedge on a meeting of the park and recreation commission, the council agreed to spend $1,000 of revenue sharing funds for employment of a summer recreation director and for the purchase of baseball equipment. The council also agreed to donate $150 toward the cost of the Fourth of July fireworks display.

City Manager Gene Cullen said he had applied to the Division of Employment Security for five persons to work under the summer work program. If approved, the program for disadvantaged youth between the ages of 14 and 22 will begin June 11 and continue through Aug. 17.

The council adopted an interim flood ordinance in order to qualify the city for national flood insurance.

A public hearing was called by the liquor control board after a complaint was filed against Guy Turnbow's Tavern, alleging his place of business has been termed a public nuisance since opening in February. The hearing will be held at 7 p.m. May 23 in the council chambers.

The council voted to protest the abandonment of the Cape Girardeau- St. Louis Bus Line.

In routine action the council approved the collector's report, of $8,022.02 for April; payment of expenditures totaling $3,534.59; and the police judge report, which showed a total of $666 in assessed fines for the month.

5 treated

Five accident patients were treated Thursday in the emergency room of Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Fire damages truck

NEW MADRID — Firemen were called at 2:50 p.m. Thursday to Riverview Grocery on Highway 61 South where a Pemiscot County dump truck from Caruthersville had caught fire.

The driver was unable to extinguish the blaze but damage was limited to the motor area. The fire is believed to have been caused when the truck backfired as the driver attempted to start it.

Construction on schedule at Madrid County center

HOWARDVILLE — Progress on the New Madrid County R-1 Vocational Skills Center is on schedule, according to Dr. George S. Reuter Jr., superintendent of schools, who said plans call for the new facility to be operational in September.

Dr. Reuter reported a few minor things remain to be done to complete the center and added that equipment which is arriving daily is being installed.

At least 11 instructional areas will be open this fall, including business data processing, secretaril science, general business (machines), accounting, health occupations, institutional foods, welding technology, graphic occupations, auto body and fender, auto mechanics and building trades and agricultural mechanics.

All courses with the exception of accounting secretarial science and general business, are two-year courses. These courses are one year and each has a prerequisite of two business courses which must be completed in the unit school. In secretarial science, a student must have completed typing and shorthand prior to enrollment.

District students will be transported to the new facility for half-day instruction. They will then return to their home school for the remainder of the day.

Lawnmower stolen from Witt home

A lawnmower was reported stolen from the Ben Witt home at 401 Virginia, according to police.

The mower was reportedly taken sometime between 6 p.m. Wednesday and 6:45 a.m. Thursday while setting in the yard by the back door of the house. Witt placed the value of the mower at $120.

Attorney appointed for Grisso by Magistrate Court

CHARLESTON — An attorney was appointed for Billy Wayne Grisso of Charleston for representation on felony charges of assault with intent to kill, stealing and two counts of burglary Thursday by Magistrate T. J. Brown Jr.

Grisso is accused of assaulting Mrs. Elizabeth "Sis" Webb after entering her home on Court Street in Charleston May 4 and demanding $1,200. He is also accused of burglarizing offices in the Mississippi County courthouse the same day. Bond on all charges was set at $5,000.

Thomas Walls of Bertrand waived a preliminary hearing on felony charges of burglary and stealing and was bound over to circuit court for a June 12 appearance. He is accused of breaking into Cunningham's Gift Shop in Bertrand April 18 and stealing $51.

A felony charge of tampering with a motor vehicle against Maurice Eugene Wright of Bertrand was reduced to a misdemeanor of stealing less than $50. A 60- day jail sentence was suspended and Wright was placed on one year progation. The same charge against Thomas Walls was dismissed.

A preliminary hearing scheduled for Thursday for Jimmie Darrell Hicks of Sikeston, charged with breaking and entering and burglary, was reset for May 24. Hicks, accused of breaking into the home of Harry Keener in Charleston and stealing $20, is free on $500 bond.

A preliminary hearing for Larry David Williams of East Prairie, charged with carrying a concealed weapon and exhibiting and flourishing a dangerous and deadly weapon, was scheduled for June 16.

May 31 was set as preliminary hearing date for O'Nela Widdows of East Prairie, who is charged with felonious assault. He is accused of flourishing a .22 caliber rifle in the presence of Bob Haddock on April 30.

Preliminary hearing for Mike Harvell, charged with the felony of tampering with a motor vehicle, was set for May 24 and bond was fixed at $1,000. Ozine Davis, also charged with tampering with a motor vehicle, had his case continued to May 17 and was released on his own recognizance.

Perry Bailey waived preliminary hearing on a charge of disposing of mortgaged chattel and was bound over to Circuit Court. He was released on his own recognizance in custody of his attorney.

George W. Bailey of Charleston was sentenced to 30- days in the county jail on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while operator's license was revoked. Isom Dunigan Jr. of East Prairie received a 10- day suspended sentence and was placed on six months probation for driving while under revocation. Conditions of probation were that the obey the law and pay court costs of $16.

Other misdemeanor charges and fines included: Dennis Ray McKinney of East Prairie, expired vehicle license, $21; Billy Gene Dowdy of East Prairie, speeding, $36.50; Gary Lee Adkisson of Charleston, expired trailer license, $21; Timothy Patrick Allred of East Prairie, careless and imprudent driving, $31; Anthony Graham Childers of Charleston, speeding, $32; Robert Nelson Henry of Charleston, careless and reckless driving, $41; and Herbert Stallings, disturbing the peace, 30 day suspended sentence and one year probation, plus $17.50 costs. Jimmy Jackson, Albert Reed and Stanford Nevels all of Wyatt were each fined $37.84 and given 30- day suspended sentences on peace disturbance charges. The three were also placed on one year probation.

A common assault charge against Herbert Chappel was continued to May 17 and he was released on his own recognizance. Continued to May 24 was a charge of unlicensed operator against Jasper Williams of Sikeston and a common assault charge against Edward Holmes.

Other cases this week in magistrate court include: Harry Lee Lindley of East Prairie, improper registration, $35.50; Roy Esco Bone Sr., speeding, $26; Frankie Alton Slatton, no Missouri PSC authority, $41; Jimmy Lee Nolan, improper registration and operating a motorcycle without motorcycle qualification license, $26. Disturbing the peace charges against Billy Patrick and Roy Gene Patrick were dismissed at $19.20 costs.

Ann Landers

Stepdad should knock before entering bedroom

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married to this man for 12 years. My daughter by a previous marriage is 15. Bill has been a good father to Wendy and to our own two children.

About two years ago I noticed that Bill fooled around with Wendy a lot, punching her, pulling her on his lap, and tickling her. She would run giggling and screaming into the other room. It seemed like innocent fun and I said nothing, although he never behaved like that with our own two daughters.

Lately he has been walking into Wendy's bedroom "to hurry her up" when she is dressing. This morning I heard her shout, "Please, will you knock first? I hate it when you just walk in and I have nothing on."

I had a private chat with Wendy that night and she said he has never done anything "wrong" but she wishes her stepdad would "leave her alone." Wendy is very mature for 15 and now I suddenly remember other letters in your column about fathers and stepdaughters. Please repeat the advice. I blocked it out of my consciousness and now I know why.--- Freud Was No Fool

Dear Freud: The advice goes like this: A 15- year- old girl is more of a woman than a child. She is old enough to tell a stepfather, a boyfriend or a Funny Uncle to keep his pea-pickin' hands off her body--- if she really wants them kept off. Some teenagers are testing their wow- power just to see if it works, so don't make any rash assumptions, Mom. That train runs both ways.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been able to handle life's major problems without help. But the petty things somehow get ballooned into enormous proportions.

Doesn't a four- generation photograph mean four people in the same family, such as a great- grandmother, grandmother, mother and the baby--- all directly related? If, say, the baby is adopted, doesn't that break the bloodline.

Please put your answer in the paper. If I produced a letter from you they'd say I wrote it myself. You can't imagine the arguing that has been going on in regard to this difference in opinion.--- Fur Is Flying In Austin, Texas

Dear Fur: Yes, I CAN imagine. And from the way you worded the question, I'll bet you aren't going to be happy with my answer.

An adopted child should have exactly the same status as any other child. And this goes for family pictures as well as everything else.

Dear Ann Landers: You seem to be straightforward and not afraid to say exactly what you think. Please don't let me down. The problem is with my parents.

Is there anything wrong with correcting your dad or mother if they say something fake in front of company? I was brought up to think that lying is wrong no matter who does it. If a kid is taught that he must always tell the truth and then he hears one of his parents breaking that rule, is it wrong to say so in front of whoever happens to be there? I hope you get the picture.--- A Correcter In Trouble

Dear Correcter: I get the picture all right, but I'd like to point out that tact and consideration for a person's feelings can be just as important as honesty. You should have waited until the company left before you "corrected" your parents. No one likes to be hauled up short in front of his friends.

Even if drinking is the "in" thing in your crowd, it needn't crowd you out. Learn the facts from Ann Landers' booklet, "Booze And You--- For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35c in coin and a long, self- addressed, stamped envelope to this newspaper with your request.

OPERETTA WEEKS, 150th YEAR AS A SPA

BAD ISCHL, Austria (AP) — Operetta Weeks here will run from July 15 to Sept. 9 this year. The program calls for nine performances of Franz Lehar's "The Merry Widow," seven performances of "Csardas Princess" by Emmerich Kalman and two operetta concerts.

To commemorate the 150th anniversary of Bad Ischl's status as a spa, a Biedermeier exhibition and an historical pageant also will be mounted.

Two will receive top awards

They are F. Marion Rhodes of Arlington, Va., near Washington, D.C., and Dr. Marlin E. Remley of Northridge, Calif., near Los Angeles.

Rhodes, a 1932 graduate of Southeast Missouri State, had a long career with the U. S. Department of Agriculture before becoming president of the cotton exchange in 1960.

Dr. Remley, a member of the Southeast Missouri State Class of 1941, has been with various divisions of North American Rockwell since he received his Ph. D. in physics in 1952 from the University of Illinois. At present, he is manager of the Health, Safety and Radiation Services Department of Atomics International.

The two men will become the 25th and 26th recipients of Southeast Missouri State Alumni Merit Awards. The awards program was initiated in 1958.

Their citations will be presented at the graduation exercises which will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday in Houck Stadium on the campus. Approximately 850 students are expected to receive degrees.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton will be the speaker.

Earlier on graduation day, students and faculty will attend the baccalaureate service at 9 a.m. in the auditorium of Academic Hall. The speaker will be Dr. Raymond F. McCallister, first vice president of the World Convention of the Churches of Christ and pastor of the Webster Groves Christian Church since 1939.

From 4 to 5:50 p.m. the annual alumni reception will be held in the ballroom of Memorial Hall. The reception honors the graduating class and Alumni Merit Award winners.

Powers-Proffer

GULFPORT, Miss. — In a candlelight ceremony at First United Methodist Church, Miss Jana Kay Proffer became the bride of Daniel Garland Powers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Louis Proffer of Gulfport, formerly of Sikeston, Mo., and Mrs. and Mrs. Garland Eugene Powers of Natchez.

The Rev. R. Stewart Smith officiated at the double- ring ceremony before an altar adorned with brass urns holding massive colonial bouquets of white tulips and baby's breath. Crystal votive lights in four arched candelabra, which were entwined with fern and magnolia leaves, lighted the sanctuary. Lighting the stained glass windows were large white candles banked with glossy greens native to the coast.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Howard Yund, organist, and Adam Ortiz, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian gown designed by Pricilla of Boston of peau de faille in a soft candlelight tone. English net fashioned the rounded yoke with Dutchess neckline and Juliet sleeves appliquet in re-embroidered Alencon lace. Elaborate appliques of the rich lace in scroll designs extended down the front of the controlled skirt and the full chapel train was enhanced with lace appliques in floral designs. Over this she wore a cathedral- length heirloom Brussels mantilla held by a Juliet cap of matching lace. The bride wore an heirloom string of pearls and carried an arm bouquet of antique white tulips laced with baby's breath tied with white satin ribbons.

Attending her sister as maiden of honor was Miss Allison Proffer. Maid of honor was Miss Victoria Eckles of Leeds, Ala. Bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Singleton and Miss Virginia Kilpatrick of Gulfport. Miss Kevan Brown of Hattiesburg, and Miss Melissa Mims of Jackson, cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of sun yellow chiffon with high neck and long fitted sleeves finished with a double flounce. A self ruffle fell down the side front and extended around the hem line of the A-line skirt.

Mrs. Powers selected a sky blue chiffon princess gown featuring a V-neckline with self ruffle and wrist-length sleeves with double ruffles of self material. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Mrs. W. A. McDonald, grandmother of the bride, wore a street- length dress of aqua blue linen with matching cardigan jacket. Mrs. Ralph L. Proffer of Sikeston, Mo., grandmother of the bride, chose a sheath dress with full long sleeves of French blue crepe. Mrs. Willis E. Black of Natchez, grandmother of the groom, selected a navy princess dress and jacket with white collar and cuffs. All wore corsages of white orchids.

Attending his brother as best man was Keith Powers of Natchez. Groomsmen were Frank Johnson, University of Mississippi, Buz Lowry of Jackson, Jordan Hankins of Jackson, Larry Bryan of Atlanta, Ga. and Billy Ayers of Memphis, Tenn. Ushers were Gary Powers of Clinton and Patrick Powers of Natchez, brothers of the groom, and Mark Martin of Gulfport.

The reception was held in the home and garden of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. Wrought iron hurricane lamps lined the brickwalks to the front entry and to the green and white striped tent in the garden. Music in the garden was presented by Joe Schultz.

The bride and groom, their parents and Mrs. H. Rivers Singleton received the guests in the living room. Mrs. Thomas Hulsey Anderson greeted guests in the entry hall. Forsythia filled the antique Japanese jardinieres in the deep window sills. Garlands of pine and boxwood, tied with white satin cord with tassels, decorated the mantle and entry hall staricase. White tapers in brass candlesticks and brass wall candelabras lighted the receiving and serving rooms.

In the dining room, centering the table, covered with a white linen and lace tablecloth, was the bride's multi- tiered cake. Each tire was separated by columns and arrangements of white roses and baby's breath. Topping the cake was a replica of the bride's bouquet. On each side of the cake were white tapers in antique silver candlesticks tied with white satin cords with silk tassels. Serving the cake were Mrs. H. Cecil Kilpatrick, Mrs. Donald Cuevas, Mrs. Durant Dabbs and Mrs. Owen Palmer.

The punch table in the den held a massive arrangement of spring flowers, featuring tulips, in a silver epergne holding white tapers. A fanshaped arrangement of similar flowers was on the piano. Serving punch were Mrs. William A. Peden, Mrs. David O. Wright, Mrs. Larry Barker and Mrs. Walter W. Van Skiver.

The groom's cake, which was served in the tent, was chocolate and iced in mocha and embossed with the Kappa Sigma insignia. Mrs. Larry F. Hatfield and Mrs. Robert Mims of Jackson, Mrs. Robert Ferguson of Gulfport and Mrs. Gary Powers of Clinton served the cake.

Serving punch in the tent were Mrs. David McGee of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Douglas Medley of Gulfport, Mrs. Frank Johnson of Oxford and Miss Deborah Kaufman of Vicksburg. Others assisting with serving were Miss Debe Cuevas, Miss Nancy McKenzie, Miss Susan Townley, Miss Jan Cox, Miss Genie Palmer, Miss Jeanette Alford, Miss Candy Darling, Miss Ann Dabbs, Mrs. Jack Ballard and Mrs. Colvin Meier, all of Gulfport, and Miss Deborah Wood of Jackson.

Hostesses in the tent were Mrs. Jack Simmons, Mrs. William F. Adams, Mrs. Robert Portwood and Mrs. Hollis R. Brown of Hattiesburg.

The couple will make its home in Houston, Tex., where Powers is an accountant with Arthur Andersen and Company.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home.

This is honestly a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $2.00 ($2.25 for Rush Service)—Cash is O.K.— to: Jorma Products Co., P.O. Box 2176, Leucadia, CA 92024. Don't order unless you expect to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!

Mildew check tips given

By VIRGINIA E. TWITTY
AREA HOME ECONOMIST

Is your home damp? Are some clothing and household fabrics damp? You probably do not heat your house now to dry these things out. Mildew stains are caused by molds which grow very rapidly when both dampness and warmth are present, so you probably have an ideal place for this mold and thus mildew to develop. Mildew grows well on cotton, linen, rayon, silk, wook and leather. It discolors fabrics and sometimes so destroys it that it will fall apart.

To Prevent mildew— immediately clean and dry those things that may be damp and perhaps soiled from use of water. Check all stored clothing, bedding and other household fabrics to be sure they are dry, or dry them if they are not.

To Remove Mildew— 1. Wash with soap and water. 2. Rinse well and dry in the sun, if possible. 3. If any stain remains bleach with one of the following: Lemon juice and salt, sodium perborate bleach or a chlorine bleach depending on the fabric. Do not use chlorine bleach on silk and wool. Have these dry cleaned. Some synthetic materials should not be bleached. Follow instructions on labels of bleach.

SeMo U.'s homecoming to to have centennial theme

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The theme of next October's Homecoming celebration at Southeast Missouri State University will be "1873 -- Those Were The Days -- 1973," in keeping with the university's centennial celebration which will be observed throughout the coming academic year.

Miss Hattie L. Eicholtz, director of alumni affairs at the university, said she expects Homecoming to be one of the highlights of the centennial year, probably attracting more former students to the campus than at any other time during the celebration period.

Homecoming activities will be spread over three days, Oct. 11-13, but Oct. 12 will be a special day for alumni.

Headquarters for the Oct. 12 activity will be Kent Library, and special events will include a historical slide show, historical exhibit, and bus tours of the campus.

Alumni will also have an opportunity to visit with both Dr. Arthur Mattingly of the history department and Jake Wells of the art department.

Dr. Mattingly is writing a history of the university which, it is hoped, can be published in book form. Wells is painting a 38 by 20-foot mural at the entrance to the library which depicts the historical development and cultural heritage of southeast Missouri.

Rooms will also be set aside in Kent Library on Oct. 12 for members of various reuion groups to renew old friendships. Besides the regular reunions on the 50, 25, and 10- year classes, several other groups are planning reunions.

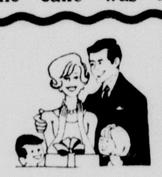

These include all of the old literary societies which once functioned on the campus.

On Homecoming Day itself, Oct. 13, there will be the usual bill of fare -- the parade down Broadway, the alumni luncheon in Memorial Hall (expected to attract a record crowd), the football game at Houck Stadium, and after- the- game get-togethers at various restaurants in the area.

In addition to these activities there will be a number of attractions of primary interest to students, such as a concert on the evening of Oct. 11 and the Homecoming dance and queen coronation on the evening of Oct. 12.

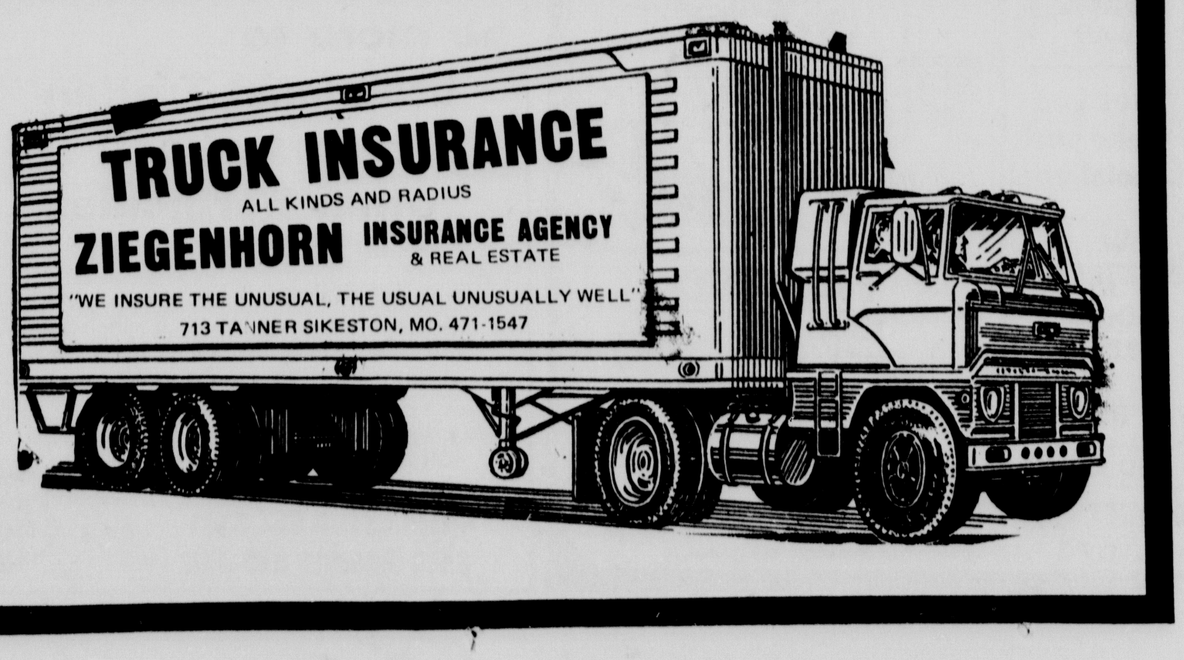

Miss Eicholtz said the Homecoming steering committee is seeking slides, photographs and other items of historical interest for the slide show and exhibit in Kent Library on Oct. 12. Alumni with items which may be of interest are encouraged to loan them to the alumni office. They will be returned.

SeMo counties among wealthiest in state

CAPE GIRARDEAU — More evidence of major growth in Cape Girardeau County came when the Jefferson City-based Missouri Association of Counties released figures of assessed valuations in the state for 1972.

The report showed Cape County ranked 12th among Missouri's 115 counties with assessed valuation — or taxable wealth — totaling $121,663,109.

The ranking of other area counties and their valuations were:

St. Francois, 16, $80,124,982; Scott, 23, $65,391,840; New Madrid, 24, $64,667,000; Stoddard, 28, $59,155,295; Dunklin, 29, $59,020,063; Butler, 33, $55,464,906; Pemiscot, 35, $52,178,148; Mississippi, 46, $43,484,905; Ste. Genevieve, 52, $37,720,178; Perry, 53, $37,552,208; Madison, 94, $20,061,993; Bollinger, 96, $19,435,374; Wayne, 107, $14,519,631.

The report said assessed value in Missouri totaled $12.2 billion last year, of which 65.7 per cent was in the form of real estate, 16.3 was personal property, 11.8 was utilities and 6.2 was merchants and manufacturers.

St. Louis County led the state with $3.1 billion, followed by St. Louis City, $1.7 billion, and Jackson County (Kansas City) $1.6 billion.

3 county health project launched

HAYTI — A project to provide improved health services for poor and indigent persons has been launched by the Missouri Delta Ecumenical Ministry, officials announced Monday night at the organization's board of directors meeting at Hayti.

The project is being developed by MDEM's Health Advisory Committee, composed of board members and others interested in public health problems in the three-county area of Dunklin, Pemiscot and New Madrid.

Mrs. Lynette Mannering, an MDEM staff member, is serving as coordinator for the project.

In outlining the project, Mrs. Mannering said the Health Advisory Committee plans to spendseveral months emphasizing health education and at the same time conduct a survey, which is already underway, to determine the specific needs of a health service for the poor.

Mrs. Mannering said the survey could show the need to develop health delivery services, noting that members of the committee had already visited one Arkansas county, where a mobile medical unit has been put into operation.

An attempt is being made to secure minimal initial funding of the project from churches at the jurisdictional level.

Mrs. Mannering said the Health Advisory Committee has also employed a director, Mrs. Mary Barth, a registered nurse and a Catholic ecumenical volunteer- in-service. Mrs. Barth is assisting in the presentation of educational programs and in the development of a medical-needs survey in the three-county area.

Green sentence stayed

CHARLESTON — Tony Michael Green of St. Louis, who pleaded guilty March 13 to a charge of unlawful possession of drugs, had a four year sentenced stayed Wednesday and was placed on probation by Circuit Judge Marshall Craig. Included in the conditions of his probation were that he refrain from association with persons dealing in drugs, obey the law, abide by the rules and regulation of his probation officer,, accept employment and undergo psychiatric treatment.

Oliver Williams St. of Wyatt received a suspended six-month jail sentence and placed on one year probation after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of felonious assault. Conditions of his probation are that he obey the law, pay costs, abide by rules of his probations officer and not frequent Jackson's tavern in Wyatt.

Slyvester Smith off Charleston was denied probation from a three year penitentiary sentence given April 10 on a stealing charge in connection with the theft of three guns from the office of Sheriff W. J. "Pedro" Simmons.

A charge of operating a motor vehicle while driver's licenses were revoked brought a one year jail sentence to Richard Pope of East Prairie. He was given credit for 10 days spent in jail prior to sentencing.

Carolyn Sue Harden was granted a divorce and custody of two children from Jerry Allen Harden. Harden was ordered to pay $15 per child, per week, child support and $250 attorney fees.

A divorce and custody of two children was granted Judith Lynn Howard from Billy Howard. Mrs. Howard is to receive $15 per child, per week child support and $250 attorneys fee. A separate agreement was made part of the decree.

Prayer for today

from the Upper Room

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. [Psalm 23:1] PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we thank You for the assurance that You are always with us to strengthen, to challenge, if we will open the door. May we experience this reality as we sincerely pray, "Come in today, come in to stay." Amen.

Sikeston students win 4 first places at SeMo scholastic meet

50 years ago
May 11, 1923

On Wednesday Roscoe Weltecke began the construction of a 40 x 136 foot addition to the McKnight-Keaton Wholesale Grocery building near the Frisco station.

Marion, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pattenbill, residing on Bloomfield Road, one mile southwest of Cape Girardeau, was seriously injured yesterday when a horse he was riding slipped and fell on him at the intersection of Good Hope and Pacific streets. His right leg was fractured and interal injuries, which are not expect to prove serious, were sustained. The Pattengill family, formerly lived a few miles east of Sikeston and are well known here.

Sikeston High School pupils won four first places out of a total of 13 at the big Southeast Missouri Hogh School scholastic meet in Cape Girardeau last Friday and Saturday. Among Sikeston's first place winners was the glee club, directed by Miss Violet Benson. Miss Dorothy Lillard had the distinction of winning two first places--- she won the cup in the contest for music appreciation over representatives of Poplar Bluff and Cape. She also won the piano medal in a field of 15 contestants. Miss Anita Winchester was the winner in a news writing contest and was awarded a gold medal.

Sikeston pupils also won three second place honors. The quartet, composed or Dick Stubbs, Donald Milem, Lillian Shields and Sara Malone, was awarded second; Miss Annette Smith was second place winner in the essay contest. Everett Hargrove lost first place honors in the typewriting contest by a very close margin, being defeated by Poplar Bluff. Miss Della Harper won third in the shorthand contest making less than three per cent errors in five minutes rapid dictation.

Miss Lucille Kendall has accepted the position at the Lair Furniture Co., formerly held by Mrs. J. Ernest Harper.

Announcement is made by Scott County Milling Co., Sikeston, that it has become a dealer for the nationally known line of tires and tubes manufactured by the B.F. Goodrich Co., Akron, Ohio.

The local golfers suffered defeat at the hands of the Poplar Bluff club Sunday in their second game of the season played on the Bluff nine- hole course, with the Bluff golfers making a total of 40 points to the Sikeston club's 19. Outstanding players in the game were Ted Borth of Poplar Bluff with a low total of 75, and C.C. Scott, this city, with a 76 for both rounds.

Matthews-- Mr. and Mrs. Joe Settles and little daughter, Jo Ann, of Matthews vicinity, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. "Fattie" Hastings and family.

Pfc. Robert E. Burch, who has been stationed at Trinidad for the past year, sent Mother's Day greetings to his mother, Mrs. May Burch.

Mr. and Mrs. F.X. Schumacher are parents of a daughter born at St. Francis Hospital in Cape Thursday. It is their third child.

W.O. Vaughn of Portageville was killed and Geo. Blankenship of Portageville was injured when the car in which they were riding sideswiped two local trucks and turned over several times Sunday near Dexter.

Albert Cooper, for the past two years principal of the grade school at Benton, has been employed as grade school principal at Ste. Genevieve. H.L. Jackson, who became superintendent of schools at Ste. Genevieve last year, is a former superintendent at Benton.

Mrs. G.M. Harrison returned Friday from Columbia, where she went the preceding Monday to find a residence for her family, as they expect to move there in June. Mr. Harrison is a construction engineer with the State Highway Department, now located in the Western and Central parts of the state. Their daughter, Miss Phyllis, a graduate of the Sikeston High School this month, plans to attend a junior college in Columbia next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee entertained with a dinner yesterday in honor of the birthday of their son, James, who was 21 Friday.

Once again congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Rose, who will observe their 54th wedding anniversary on May 14 and celebrated the occasion on Mother's Day yesterday with a family reunion at their home, 217 Mill Row.

Mr. and Mrs. D.T. Kavanagh of Detroit, Mich., are parents of a son born May 7. The new baby has been named Dennis Kevin. He has three sisters and one brother. The mother is the former Patricia Blanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blanton of Sikeston.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Singleton, Bertrand, are parents of a baby boy born at the Delta Community Hospital on the ninth.

Information has been received of the death of Mrs. Ada Grace of Memphis, Tenn., while attending services at Faith Temple Sunday when she collapsed. She is a former resident of Sikeston.

Thomas W. Stafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stafford, Route 1, Lilbourn, recently was promoted to private first class while serving with the 552nd Anti- Aircraft Artillery Gun Battalion at Karlsrune, Germany.

Gas available, despite closings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the closing of another 220 service stations across the nation, the government says there is no area of the country where drivers are unable to buy gasoline.

A survey by the Office of Emergency Preparedness showed Wednesday that the number of stations closed by a fuel shortage has grown from 342 to 562 since April.

The number of stations threatened by gas shortages rose from 930 to 1,376 during the period, the survey showed.

But Darrell M. Trent, acting director of the agency, said the shortages "are not expected to be of a severity to warrant rationing by the federal government."

THE POWERFUL AND TRUE STORY OF SHERIFF BUFORD PUSSER

At previews everywhere across the country, audiences have responded with a thunderous reaction to "Walking Tall."

It is the deeply moving, contemporary story of a young man who wouldn't surrender to the System . . . and the girl who always stood beside him.

"Walking Tall" is based on the truth and it isn't "just a movie."

assistance to planning commissions. Sikes commented that he is pessimistic about the bill's passage.

Henry Maddox of Jefferson City, director of the Division of Commerce and Industrial Development, agreed with Sikes that industrial development projects should be funded locally.

"There is a great deal of psychology in local funding -- if citizens have their own money in the program, they'll be more involved," Maddox said.

Maddox cited the cities of Sedalia and Hannibal as examples of successful efforts in local funding. In both cases the city, county, Chamber of Commerce and Junior Chamber of Commerce hired a full-time industrial development specialist to a three- year contract.

Maddox also commented that federal funds may not last and that financing must be done on a continuing basis. "Funding has to be on a long range basis, at least three years," he said.

good as Scott County does.

In addition to the three Sikeston banks, requests for bids were mailed to Oran State Bank, Bank of Chaffee, Bank of Illmo and Scott City Bank and Trust Co. The four smaller banks in the northern part of the county did not bid on any part of the deposits.

Lankford said the reason the smaller banks did not bid was that they knew they wouldn't get any of the money anyway.

The Scott County treasurer and collector funds consist of all taxes collected, all grants, disaster relief funds, federal revenue sharing funds and all other money received by the county. The agreement for deposits of county funds are made for a period of two years. In 1971, Scott County received approximately $15,000 in interest and approximately $7,500 in 1972 for a total of $22,500 in the past two years.

Lankford said that regardless of any criticism the court might receive on its decision, it would not change its mind because it was a unanimous vote.

Lankford also said that although some people have said the court left 6 per cent of the money laying on the table, "We were just trying to be fair and give each bank a chance."

He also added he believes tax money should not be invested but rather spent for improvement, adding that if there is too much money for the court to invest, he thinks taxes should be lowered.

Lankford said the collector's funds would be divided the same as the other funds, with the County Court instructing the collector where the money will go. He said the collector's funds cannot be invested in time certificates of deposit and the highest the funds would ever be able to draw would be 4.5 per cent. At the end of each month, the money is divided into the political subdivisions where it was collected, Lankford said.

Leible provides punch

For the first time all year the Sikeston Bulldogs finally beat the weatherman. Despite heavy afternoon rains in the Sikeston area and a tornado watch which was out during the game, the Bulldogs defied Mother Nature and went on to claim their fourth win in five starts, 5-2, over the Cairo Pilots.

John Leible again carried the big stick for Sikeston, his two hits pushing his season's batting mark to .462. The junior catcher was aided in the offensive effort by big first sacker Jim Saulter, who drove in a couple of runs with his two hits. Donnie Taylor had Sikeston's only extra- base hit, a double over the left fielder's head.

After an outstanding relief job in Wednesday's games, Richard Blankenship came right back to start the contest against Cairo. The slim righthander pitched very well in collecting the win, his second in two days. Mitchell Walker got credit for a save with some late relief work.

Blankenship's start was kind of rocky. After fanning the first man in the initial inning, three of the next four batters touched the hurler for hits. However, the last man in the inning grounded into a force play and the game settled down to a pitching duel. Bruce Brinkman, Cairo's secondline hurler, matched goose eggs with Blankenship and the game was scoreless for the first three and a half innings.

Sikeston scored first in the bottom of the fourth inning. Kenny Stokes led off the frame with a single and stole second. John Leible moved him to third, then also swiped second. When Jim Saulter grounded to short, Stokes hesitated and then broke as the shortstop fired to first. The sophomore crossed the plate unmolested with the Bulldog's first tally. Moments later, Rick Dyer and Leible executed a perfect squeeze bunt for the second Sikeston run. With two outs, Rick Eisenbach lashed a hard single to left and Donnie Taylor kept up his power hitting with a long double over the outfielder's head, scoring Eisenbach and giving the Bulldogs a 3-0 lead.

The Bulldogs added two more in the next frame. With one out, Greg Colwick reached on a throwing error by the Cairo third baseman. Stokes advanced him to second. From there he scored on a single by Leible. The hit gave the Sikeston catcher eight hiths in his last eleven at bats. Jim Saulter then followed with his second hit, a single that scored Leible. The Bulldogs led 5-0.

Darrell Flowes, after batting his first two times unsuccessfully righthanded, switched around and swung from the opposite side. The change was a good one for Cairo, as the tall centerfielder hit the ball far out of the park in right field for a home run. When Brickmeyer followed with his second hit, Sikeston coach N. P. McDaniel decided Blankenship had had enough and he brought in another junior, Mitchell Walker. after some initial wildness, settled down and quelched the rally, saving the win for the Bulldogs and Blankenship. Ronnie Woods, the Cairo catcher, got his third hit of the game in the seventh, but he was stranded as Walker retired Flowers and struck out Brinkmeyer to claim the decision.

In the game, the Bulldogs played their "underclassmen" lineup. The starting nine included eight juniors and one sophomore, essentially the same starting lineup that will be employed next season. The team looked relaxed in the win and played well, indicating tha they might be peaking, approximately one week too late.

The next game for S. H. S. is Saturday afternoon at Poplar Bluff against the Mules in a 1 p.m. contest.

Cards lose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco Giants' lefthander Sam McDowell no longer makes batters cringe over his fastball, but he still can find ways to win—like with his bat.

McDowell, though shaky in six innings of work against the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday, triggered a two-run rally in the bottom of the fifth with a bunt single, helping the Giants to a 6-3 victory.

After McDowell dragged a one-out bunt to the right side, Bobby Bonds singled and Tito Fuentes walked, loading the bases. Chris Speier then belted a two-run single, cracking a 3-3 tie.

McDowell, 1-0, and losing pitcher Rick Wise, 3-2, had varying opinions on the key bunt.

"I felt I had to get on somehow, but I've only bunted a couple of times before," said McDowell. "I just lucked out."

Wise countered: "I told our infielders to look out for the bunt and I just missing picking it up. I've seen McDowell do it 100 times—even with two strikes—so it was no surprise."

McDowell allowed three runs, six hits and four walks, while uncorking two wild pitches.

The Giants' other runs came on solo homoers by Willie McCovey, his eighth, and Dave Kingman, plus a two-run triple by Jim Howarth.

Wise's run-scoring triple and Ray Busse's homer accounted for two of the St. Louis runs, but Giants' relief ace Randy Moffitt blanked the Cardinals over the last three innings for his sixth save.

Moffitt now has appeared in half of the clubs' 34 games, working a total of 34 innings and allowing only 25 hits and seven earned runs for a classy 1.85 ERA.

Hayti bombs Bernie,15-8

HAYTI— Coach Jerry Cecil's Indians unleashed an awesome offensive attack to humble the Bernie Mules 15-8 here Thursday afternoon to take the District 12 championship and advance to the state regional at Van Buren.

Hayti bombed two Bernie pitchers for 16 hits including two doubles and four homeruns. Danny White, Randy Gardner, and Mark Cartee hit for the circuit. Gardner smacked two roundtrippers and a double knocking five runs in the game besides being the winning pitcher.

Darrell Smothers started on the mound for the Mules and Hayti began to punch away with the bat in the top of the first inning scoring a run on two base hits.

Gardner held the Mules hitless in the bottom of the frame and the Indians played longball with the Mules ace Dell Walker in the top of the second as Mark Cartee, the Indians second sacker, exploded for a two run shot and shortstop Danny White popped a three run blast for five runs and a 6- 1 lead.

With Walker firing in the third again Hayti got three hits and four runs with two of the runs coming on a homerun blast by Randy Gardner.

Gardner allowed the Mules their first hit in the bottom of the third. Hayti added single runs in the fourth and fifth and held a whopping 12- 0 lead and were anxious to put the game away early because of the ten run rule after five innings but with two out and two on and a 3- 2 count on Smothers Gardner served up a fat pitch and Smothers socked it out of the park for three runs.

Hayti kept the pressure on the Mules as Gardner hit his second homer of the game with one on and the Indians scored their final three runs. With Gardner out of the pitching duties as Tom Alexander came in for the final three outs Bernie collected two hits and with the help of two errors and two walks, scored five runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Hayti will join Kelly and Scott City on a trip to Van Buren to play in the regional. Kelly and Scott City will square off on Friday May 18 and Hayti will be paired against the undefeated Van Buren Bulldogs.

Kelly, Scott City or Hayti have a shot at finishing in the top for teams in the state and representing southeast Missouri in Springfield if one of the three can beat Van Buren in the regional

Kennett athletes top events

Kennett track stars, Tony Smith and David Tippen, are the only Southeast Missouri athletes to rank among the top three in qualifying across the state.

Smith's 53 - feet- four-inch toss of the shot put was the top toss statewide and Tippen's 13 feet, six inch mark in the pole vault also headed that department.

The state event will be conducted Saturday at the University of Missouri in Columbia for class M and S teams.

Knicks NBA champs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Four in a row seems almost impossible," sadly commented the giant Wilt Chamberlain, yet he and his Los Angeles Laker teammates had lost their National Basketball Association title to New York in a virtual sweep.

"New York was the better team," added the 7-foot-1 Laker after the Knicks had hung up a 102-93 victory Thursday night and a 4-1 winning margin in playoff series games.

They had lost the opener and then come back to whip the defending champions four straight and there were few excuses.

"They are well balanced, have tremendous passing and so many good shooters that you can't concentrate on one man. The key to the series was that the defense stopped our running game."

The Knicks' defense throttled the Lakers, particularly when there was a chance of Los Angeles pulling ahead.

Ironically, the Lakers had wanted to play New York in the final series rather than Boston and cheered when the Knicks beat the Celtics in the Eastern playoffs.

Last year, it was Los Angeles 4-1 over the Knicks, who had won the NBA title in 1970 by beating the Lakers.

"I think we had more depth than we did the last time we won the title," commented Knicks' Coach Red Holzman. "We didn't have Jerry Lucas, Earl Monroe or Dean Meminger then."

Monroe took scoring honors for the finale on the New York side with 23 points and Bill Bradley, the Rhodes scholar, added 20.

Dave DeBusschere, who starred two nights previously with 33 points, tallied just one field goal and sprained his right ankle in the fourth quarter when he finally did reach the scoring list.

Willis Reed, the nine-year veteran pro from Grambling, proved tremendous. Three years ago when the Knicks beat the Lakers for the title he was the most valuable in the series. Then his knees were injured. Last year he didn't even play in the finals.

This time he showed more quickness than any time during the season.

Again, a national magazine voted him most valuable and he received a new car.

In the final game, he scored 18 points, grabbed 12 rebounds and had seven assists.

The Lakers had only one excuse. Back court ace Jerry West was hampered by strained hamstring muscles in both legs. The right was bandaged for the finale and he scored only 12 points.

"With Jerry hurt, our quickness, our speed and our running game just aren't the same," said Los Angeles Coach Bill Sharman and even efforts of 28 points by Gail Goodrich and 23 by Chamberlain could not compensate for the bad West underpinnings.

For the winners, Jerry Lucas commented, "I really believe this is the most intelligent team in the history of pro basketball. Everybody on this team is thinking all the time. We don't overpower anybody, we have to finesse them. To do that, you have to play smart, intelligent basketball."

'Embarrassing' for manager

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When you manage the Texas Rangers, you have to scramble sometimes to find a silver lining. So it was with Whitey Herzog Thursday night.

"The only good thing I can say about this is that they can only chalk up one loss against us," the rookie skipper said after the Oakland A's pounded out 23 hits and shelled the Rangers 17- .

Not only that, but Herzog even managed to make himself believe that the outcome might have been different...if.

"It was embarrassing," he conceded, "but we gave them six outs in the first inning and got five runs down and that was the game. If they only score two runs like they should have, we're in good shape."

True. Then the final score would have only been 14-2.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Chicago White Sox edged California 4-3 in 12 innings, Kansas City trounced Detroit 8-2 and Boston nipped Cleveland 4-3. In the only National League action, San Francisco beat St. Louis 6-3.

It resembled batting practice for the A's as nine of them got more than one hit, including rookie catcher Tim Hosley, just up from the minors.

Reggie Jackson doubled home the first two runs against Mike Paul, Ray Fosse singled home another and Dick Green singled for two more. Fosse hit a two-run homer in the fifth, Hosley delivered a two-run single as the A's scored five more in the eighth and Deron Johnson homered for one of four runs in the ninth.

"Us starting pitchers are always griping about not getting enough runs," said Ken Holtzman, 6-2, who allowed only three hits and one unearned run in seven innings. "Then a night like tonight comes along and you begin to realize that most things tend to even out."

Pat Kelly singled home Jorge Orta from second base in the 12th inning to give the White Sox and Wilbur Wood their victory over California. After Bill Singer held Chicago to three hits over 11 innings, Ron Perranoski came on in the 12th and walked Orta. Luis Alvarado sacrificed before Kelly delivered his winning hit.

Fred Patek's triple touched off a tie-breaking five-run outburst against Joe Coleman in the fifth inning as Kansas City thrashed Detroit. Patek's threebagger scored Carl Taylor, who led off the inning with a bunt single.

Boston, held without a hit or a baserunner for 5 2-3 innings by Cleveland's Dick Tidrow, rallied for three runs against Jerry Johnson in the eighth to edge the Indians.

Chris Speier's two-run single in the fifth inning snapped a 3-3 tie and boosted San Francisco past St. Louis. Willie McCovey and Dave Kingman homered for the Giants, Ray Busse for the Cardinals, who lost for the 21st time in 27 games.

Indy observers eye zoo MPH lap

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Where is that 200 miles- per-hour lap so freely predicted for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway this year?

"It's still over there in the garage area, in the minds of the drivers who will have to do it," said one seasoned observer. "I think it will come ... when the tension builds up during qualifying."

Another pit roader pointed to the top of the front stretch grandstand and commented, "You won't see a 200 mile lap at the speedway as long as that pennant up there continues to flutter in the wind. That's the key — no wind, good track conditions and a perfect car-driver."

With only two practice sessions left—a 9 a.m.-6 p.m. shift today and a 90-minute warmup Saturday -close to the magic barrier heading into the first weekend of qualifying for the May 28 500-mile race, richest motoring event in the world.

The mad scramble for positions in the 33-car starting field begins at 11 a.m. EST Saturday. At least 40 drivers were to participate in a late afternoon drawing to gain assignments for the first session under the clock, when the pole position will be at stake.

Their target will be Bobby Unser's track record speed of 196.678 m.p.h. for one lap and 195.940 for four laps, or 10 miles, set last year. Unser himself has been slowly gearing up for a shot at his mark.

Until today's final warmups, however, 25-year-old Swede Savage had been the closest to the 200 mark. The second-year driver from Santa Anna, Calif., posted an unofficial 197.802 last Saturday, during what track observers said were perfect weather and track conditions.

Turkey hunt called off

JEFFERSON CITY— The Missouri turkey season finished May 6 as a complete success in virtually all corners of the state.

In some of the Ozarks bad weather limited hunting success early in the season and in some river areas, flooding changed the expected hunting pattern-- in one county, stopped hunting entirely--- but over most of the state, the turkey bag was up and so were hunter numbers.

For the first time, hunters could take a possible two birds. They could take one legal (bearded) bird in the first segment of the season, April 24- 29, and a second one from April 30- May 6.

The largest reported bird was a 29- pounder. The state record is 33 pounds, 12 ounces. One of the largest birds was taken by 16- year-old Ted Cash of Willow Springs who has won a number of turkey calling contests.

He claimed a 27-pounder. His mother, Helen, has won several calling contests, but doesn't hunt. His father, Dallas, also is a contest winner.

Possibly the oldest hunter--- almost certainly the oldest consistently successful hunter--- Is Perry McClenahan, Festus, who took his ninth bird since 1961, a 25- pounder. He is 87.

In New Madrid County, although the season technically was open, a local sportsman's club which leases most of the turkey woods in the largely agricultural Bootheel county, stopped hunting the limited flock of birds because flood waters had concentrated the birds on levees where they would be easy prey. Conservation agent Bob Henrickson moved feed to the estimated 100 birds by boat each day.

Burl Elliott, Bolivar, had the 29- pound bird, taken in Polk County on the Pomme de Terre River. Fred Bradley, DeSoto, claimed a 27:04 trophy in Ste. Genevieve County.

Three 26- pounders were claimed by Mike Sehmelze, Ste. Genevieve; G. Andy Runge, Mexico; Ed Dooms, Ava, Runge's in Monroe County and Dooms' in Douglas County. Other gobblers of 25 pounds or more were claimed by Richard Barr, Ste. Genevieve; Lewis Kirchner, Bloomsdale; Gerald Flynn, St. Louis; Wilfred Hogginmiller and Mike Herzog, both from Weingarten; Robert Yates, Pevely; Dick Wallace, Ava; James D. Robinson, Ballwin; Charles Fallers, New Offenburg; Bob Noce, Festus; and Ralph Charleville, Crystal City.

Gary Rivolts, Florissant, was the only archer to report success in the first six days. Rick Seibel, a 14- year- old from Ste. Genevieve, was one of the first to report a second bird-- a 25- pounder.

Crog homers

BERNIE— The Bernie Mules ran their record to 11-1 in a Stoddard County Conference win over Advance 8- 5 Wednesday afternoon. Steve Carson fanned nine of the Hornets and walked two on his way to the victory.

The first inning produced runs for both teams, with Bernie taking a slight edge. The Mules pulled away during the second as their bats came through with power, giving them a 7- 2 advantage.

Advance brought runs across in the third and fifth, but it was not enough to catch Bernie.

Darrell Croy had the only extra base hit of the game with a home run.

Smothers led the Mules in RBI's with four. Bernie will face Hayti today in the finals of District play.

Denbow elected to district post

Rev. Gary Denbow

At the recent convention of the Southern Missouri District Council of the Assemblies of God at First Assembly of God Church, the Rev. Gary Denbow of Maryland Heights was elected by ministers and delegates from nearly 400 churches to serve as district director of youth and education.

The Rev. Mr. Denbow was born and reared in the Sikeston area, attended Sikeston public schools and graduated in 1964. He received a bachelor of science in education degree from Southeast Missouri State University at Cape Girardeau in 1969.

While attending college he and his wife, the former Doris Alsup, organized an Assembly of God Church in Perryville. After graduation from college the Rev. Mr. Denbow assumed duties as pastor of Northwest Assembly of God Church in Maryland Heights. The congregation being small, the Rev. Mr. Denbow taught school in the St. Louis public schools.

With the growth of the church, the Rev. Mr. Denbow was asked to serve full-time. In the last year church attendance has doubled, the income tripled, the property was doubled in size and a $100,000 building which will triple the seating capacity is almost complete. In addition, the church has added four buses to better minister to the metropolitan area.

In his new district position, the Rev. Mr. Denbow will have charge of promotion and advancement of the Sunday Schools and youth programs for nearly 400 Assembly of God churches in Missouri south of the Missouri River. He will also plan and direct the camping program on the Lake of the Ozarks for more than 2,000 boys and girls during the summer months.

The Rev. Mr. Denbow and his wife have one daughter, Judith Anne. They will live in Springfield, the district and national headquarters of the Assemblies of God.

Missionary to speak to Malden, Bernie churches

MALDEN — The Rev. Robert Mackish, Assemblies of God missionary to Eastern Europe, will be guest speaker Sunday night for services at First Assembly of God Church in Malden, and on Wednesday night he will speak at the Assembly of God Church in Bernie.

Born in the United States of Russian and Polish parents, the Rev. Mr. Mackish gained a knowledge of European culture at an early age. Later he also traveled in 12 countries on the European continent while stationed at an Army base in Germany.

During their first four years of missionary service, the Rev. Mr. Mackish and his wife Bonnie lived in Vienna, Austria. He traveled throughout Eastern Europe visiting churches in Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Mrs. Mackish is a registered nurse. The couple has two teen- age children, Deborah and David.

During these special services, the Rev. Mr. Mackish will relate church conditions in Eastern Europe and show slides of the Assemblies of God work in these countries.

The Rev. D. B. Shaw is pastor of the Malden church and the Rev. Sherwood Moore is pastor of the Bernie church. Both services will begin at 7:30 p.m.

VBS plans set at Risco church

RISCO — First Baptist Church has announced plans to hold its annual Vacation Bible School Monday through Friday, June 4-8, with a picnic on Saturday, June 9, and commencement on Sunday evening, June 10.

Witness mission to open tonight

LILBOURN — The Lilbourn United Methodist Church will be host to its second lay witness mission tonight through Sunday.

The first such mission took place three years ago.

The program consists basically of Christian lay people, men and women, who come to give wittness to the workings of God in their lives. They usually represent several different denominations and many come from outside the state.

Today's program includes a carry-in dinner at 6:30 p.m. and service at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday activities open with small group meetings in homes at 10 a.m. A picnic for everyone takes place at noon. At 6:30 p.m. there will be another carry- in dinner and a service follows at 7:30.

Sunday morning members of the witness team will share their experiences in the Sunday School classes, and the morning worship service begins at 10:45 a.m.

The three- day event closes at 7:30 p.m. Sunday with a service of review and consecration.

Bill Tope is the local lay co- ordinator and Nadine Collier is in charge of housing arrangements. Algeron Turner is in charge of the morning coffees, and Myrtle Ice, Myrtle Simpson and Lucile Baughman are in charge of meals and refreshments.

Early services planned

MALDEN — Community worship services for early risers will be held during the summer months at First Presbyterian Church.

The services will be non-denominational and informal dress will be stressed, thus allowing travelers or persons en route to activities to come dressed as they are.

The services will be held at 7 a.m. as a convenience for travelers and other persons who wish to attend worship services early on Sunday mornings.

The Rev. T. K. Prentice, pastor, will be the speaker for the early services. Free coffee will be served after the services each Sunday.

Risco pastor baptizes 12

RISCO — The Rev. Vernon Self, pastor of the Risco General Baptist Church, baptized 12 candidates Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Malden First General Baptist Church.

Two candidates were baptized in an open stream.

CHRIST MAKES MEN BROTHERS

Only through Christ can all barriers that divide men be removed. The love of God, climaxed in the cross, makes one family of all people.

Through the speed of today's communication systems the world continues to become smaller to all of us insofar as our knowledge of what occurs elsewhere is concerned.

The astronauts showed us how small the earth is when viewed on television. And their experiences in outer space revealed to them how great God is. The men in space developed a new outlook on life after their encounter in space.

Today's memory selection points out that "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus."

This philosophy was brought home recently when a few anonymous phone calls reached the fraternity house and some others threatened to burn a cross on the lawn.

Nevertheless, nothing happened to either the fraternity or the new members.

Jesus experienced difficulty in breaking down the walls that divide people from people. The church leaders have the same problems today. And communities encounter the same situations.

Centuries ago St. Clement of Alexandria said that "When you see your brother, you see God." And Erasmus wrote that "Your brother needs your help but you meanwhile mumble your little prayers to God, pretending not to see your brother's need."

Today's Christian is caught in a world of tension. What should he do to create a better brotherhood in his own neighborhood? What should he do about divisions within his own church?

Paul's writings reveal how it is possible to do away with man-made barriers that separate the races. The Gentiles were alienated from the Jewish people.

The Gentiles were strangers to the covenants that God had given to Abraham and others in the Old Testament days.

Like so many persons today, the Gentiles' religion was hopeless, without any divine promise for the future. The Gentiles were pagans with so many "gods" that they even erected idols to "unknown" gods.

Paul offered these people a new way of living, joining with other Christians in worshiping a "real" god.

Using this same philosophy, today we could unite the Russians with the Americans through the worship of the same God. Should Christians all over the world unite, peace could become a reality.

"For He is our peace, who has made us both one, and has broken down the dividing wall of hostility," wrote Paul. When Christ suffered on the cross, He bore in His flesh the enmity between man and God and the hostility between Jew and Gentile.

In John we are advised that as Christians we are commanded to love one another. God's love inspires ours and our love perfects His love. So every man has a duty toward his neighbor.

This lesson has much in common with today's ecumenical concerns. Unfortunately, since Paul's days our churches have become divided.

We have separation between Protestants and Catholics and between the Protestants themselves. And Christians are separated from the Buddhists, Hindus, Mohammedans, and others.

Such barriers will never be removed until we first remove the barriers that exist in our own neighborhoods. Each person must first welcome Christ, accept His promises, and have faith.

Victory Voices to appear at Assembly

Nancy Harmon and the Victory Voices of San Jose, Calif., will appear May 16-20 at First Assembly of God Church where the Rev. T. A. McDonough is pastor. Services will begin at 7 p.m. This well known group has appeared on television talk shows and has been featured in the "Rotunda Room" in California's state capitol. Besides churches, their itenerary includes high schools, colleges, Army bases, hospitals, ghettos and hippie areas, and just recently they returned from a tour of the West Indes.

Malden quiz team wins top honors

MALDEN — The Junior Bible Quiz Team of the Malden Church of the Nazarene took all six trophies at the Missouri District, Southern Area quiz recently at the Poplar Bluff Church of the Nazarene.

The Malden group competed against approximately 30 other youngsters from seven area churches to take the team trophy, in addition to the five individual trophies given to top quizzers.

Those winning trophies were: Becky Boner, first place; Teresa Hicks, second; Linda King, third; Pam King, fourth; and Judy Boner, fifth place.

Others participating from Malden were Kay Hicks, Sherry Baker and Sandy Wallace. Directors for the group are Mavalene Hicks and Mary Ellen Boner.

Bible school plans set for May 21-25

PORTAGEVILLE — First Church of God will have its annual Vacation Bible School May 21 through May 25. The theme this year will be "We Look To Jesus".

Classes will start each day at 8:30 and go till 11:30 a.m. The program will consist of a time for worship, song time and a craft period.

Ages for the Vacation Bible School will be nursery through the 6th grade.

The staff will include director of school, Joy Dean Stewart; secretary, Norma Lou Richardson; nursery department, Linda Thompson; teachers, Ailene Young, Deborah Graham, Mildred Townsend; assistant music director, Pat Stout, pianist, Michele Richardson.

Kindergarten — Karen Silman, teacher; Vera Stout, assistant.

Primary — Janice Henderson, teacher; Imogene Hanna, assistant.

Middle — Virginia Adams, teacher; Linda Murphy, assistant.

Juniors — Maxine Hayes, teacher; Donna Cayton, assistant.

The closing program will be held May 24 at 7 p.m.

Information concerning the school or transportation information needed, call 379-5670.

VBS slated next week

MALDEN— Vacation Bible School will being Monday at First Christian Church and will be in session each morning of next week from 9 to 11:30.

All youngsters to grade nine are invited to attend. Each session will include Bible lessons, crafts and games.

A picnic will be held after the last session of the school on Friday. A program will be presented that night at the church at 7:30 p.m.

Serving as directors for the school will be the minister, Richard Davison, Sharyn Lane, Karen House and Bette Keene. Mrs. Wendell Crosby will be in charge of crafts and Mrs. Everett Cook will direct the music.

Vinson church hosts meeting

BERNIE— Vinson General Baptist Church was host Tuesday night for a meeting of the Tri- County General Baptist churches.

Puxico and Bernie churches were the only churches represented due to inclement weather. Bernie won first place in the Bible quiz.

Mary White receives $500 scholarship

NEW MADRID — Miss Mary Ruth White of Marston, a senior at Lilbourn high school, is the recipient of the 1973 Bank of New Madrid $500 scholarship, Sam L. Hunter Jr., president, announced today.

Dr. Robert W. Foster, assistant to the president of Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau, chairman of a committee from the university, who made the selection, said "The committee was most impressed with the credentials of all the nominees."

Other finalists were Ruth E. Slayton of Matthews, Marie Pope of Parma, Steven Eugene Cross of Portageville and David Statler of New Madrid.

Mary Ruth White

Miss White is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William White.

In addition to a high academic record, she has participated in many activities, including editor of the school newspaper, member of the student council, member of the chorus, girls' sextet and the concert choir. She is a member of the National Society of Outstanding High School Students and attended the 19th annual National Beta Club convention in St. Louis.

Miss White, who wants to pursue a musical career at Southeast Missouri State University this fall, said "music has always been an important part of my life. I would like to teach music to children so they can experience the joy and fulfillment received by letting music into their hearts." She said she agreed with Plato, who said "Music is more potent than any other language because rhythm and harmony find their way into the inward places of the soul."

Superintendent of Schools George S. Reuter Jr. expressed praise for the concern of quality education by Hunter and the bank and said "It is public- spirited people and institutions that inspire our youth to live more complete and useful lives."

Bootheel farmers are top recipients of U.S. subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big producers in the cotton and soybean area of southeast Missouri were the main benefactors of federal farm subsidies in 1972.

The names of 283 Missouri farmers who got $20,000 or more for curtailing crops and complying with soil conservation practices were printed in the Congressional Record.

Six counties in the southeast Missouri bootheel accounted for 187 of the 283 listings. They also got almost $5.6 million of the $8.5 million provided by subsidies of $20,000 or more.

New Madrid County had 54 recipients who got a total of almost $1.6 million. Pemiscot was close behind with 42 payments totaling $1.2 million. Dunklin got $530,237, Stoddard $644,717, Scott $489,184 and Mississippi County just over $1 million.

The largest subsidy payment listed was $75,702 for Marshall Lands Inc. in Mississippi County. Mahan and Radcliffe, in Stoddard County, got $73,694.

Truck overturns after highway crash

This tractor- trailer truck loaded with sweet corn overturned at 11:10 p.m. Thursday on Interstate 57 one mile east of Bertrand after it was struck by a car driven by Charlie Williams, 27, of Chicago. The truck driver, Nelson Ulrich, 45, of Gordonville, received cuts and bruises and was treated at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston. (Daily Standard photo by Tim Ludwig)

7 injured in 5 SeMo accidents

Seven persons were injured Thursday in five traffic accidents on area roads, the highway patrol said today.

A tractor- trailer truck loaded with crates of sweet corn and a car collided at 11:10 p.m. on Interstate 57 one mile east of Bertrand, injuring the truck driver.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Charlie Williams, 27, of Chicago, traveling at a high rate of speed, ran off the road, came back onto the road and struck the tractor- trailer rig driven by Nelson Ulrich, 45, of Gordonville. The truck then went into a spin and overturned.

Ulrich was taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston with cuts and bruises.

A passenger, Naomi Roberts, 16, of Leachville, Ark., suffered bruises. Both were taken to a Paragould, Ark., hospital.

Three vehicles collided at 4:15 p.m. 10 miles south of Poplar Bluff, injuring one passenger.

The accident occurred when an unidentified vehicle attempted to pass a car driven by Joann Ovitt, 26, of Harviell and a road machinery vehicle driven by James Hargrove, 50, of Kennett.

The unidentified vehicle forced an oncoming car driven by George Nelson, 59, of Worth, Ill., off the road. Nelson lost control of his car, came back onto the road and struck the Ovitt car and the road machinery vehicle.

Jeanette Nelson, 57, of Worth, a passenger in the Nelson auto, received minor injuries and was taken to Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Jerry Avan, 7, of Hayti suffered minor injuries at 7:30 p.m. when his bicycle was struck on Second Street in Hayti Heights by a car driven by Ed Franks, 74, of Hayti Heights.

Franks started to pass the bicycle when the Avan boy made a left turn in front of the car.

Wiley Luckett, 33, of Torrance, Calif., received head cuts at 8:15 a.m. when his tractor- trailer truck ran off Highway 61 three miles south of Hayti and overturned.

A passenger, Ray Steimly, 28, of Lakewood, Calif., suffered internal injuries. Both were taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti.

Local funding urged

The Bootheel Regional Planning Commission was advised Thursday night to seek local funds for economic development by Alfred Sikes of Jefferson City, state director of the Department of Community Affairs, in a meeting at Ramada Inn.

Sikes, 33, is originally from Sikeston and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Sikes of 507 N. Kingshighway. He was appointed by Gov. Christopher S. Bond to head the Department of Community Affairs in January. Sikes managed Bond's successful election campaign and formerly served as assistant attorney general under Atty. Gen. John Danforth for three years.

Sikes and his wife, the former Martha Pagenkopf, have three children, Deborah, 9, Christine, 7, and Marcia, 3.

Sikes told the Malden-based planning group that the people of the area should develop a strong regional program with funds from local sources and said state and federal funds should be considered a windfall and should not be depended upon.

Alfred C. Sikes

The Economic Development Council of Bootheel Regional Planning Commission originated over a year ago and, although there are enough funds in the program for staffing, there are insufficient funds to maintain extra expenses.

Sikes spoke candidly to the group, suggesting that they ask themselves a few questions about efforts for industrial development.

"Competition is keen in industrial acquisition," Sikes said. "For every 500 plants, there are more than 5,000 industrial development programs trying to acquire them."

Sikes continued that, although the Bootheel is in strategic location in the nation with such assets as a strong work ethic, excellent quality of living and good higher education facilities, there are a number of areas with qualities just as good.

"What separates one area from another?" Sikes asked. "Intangibles. Those striving to attain industries must present an extremely attractive package."

The quality of the area is important, Sikes said, but a community should not only have country clubs and cultural activities but also programs and projects for people on the lower level of the socio- economic scale.

Sikes applauded the combining of resources, commenting that a number of communities cannot afford to have an industrial acquisition program. Regional efforts are needed, according to Sikes, who cited the successful efforts of regional solid waste plans and regional jails.

"Continue to think in regional operations," urged Sikes.

When asked in a question and answer period if any program is available in federal or state governments to assist industrial development, Sikes stated no such bill is now before legislature and that there would probably be no change in state financial assistancce this fiscal year.

Sikes was asked if there are any restrictions for spending revenue- sharing money for industrial development. He answered that he knows of none.

Sikes was also asked about Senate Bill 68 which would grant $25,000 in

Charges filed against Hyde

Charges were filed by the prosecuting attorney's office late Thursday afternoon against Walter Hyde, 25, of 611 Dorothy St. for statutory rape and attempted statutory rape following alleged assaults upon two teen- age girls.

Hyde was arrested Wednesday after the girls, ages 15 and 13, said Hyde assaulted them after offering them rides to school in separate incidents.

James Reeves named acting U.S. attorney

ST. LOUIS (AP)--A prominent southeast Missouri Democrat has been named acting U.S. attorney here to succeed Daniel J. Bartlett Jr.

James E. Reeves, a Caruthersville, Mo., lawyer, will be sworn in Monday by Judge James H. Meredith of U.S. District Court. He will take over the U.S. attorney's post Tuesday, the effective date of Bartlett's resignation.

Reeves, 45, served as acting attorney in St. Louis in 1969 also prior to the appointment of Bartlett, who will join a private St. Louis law firm.

Meredith said an interim attorney was necessary to handle prosecutions until a permanent appointment is made.

Donald J. Stohr, a former St. Louis city counselor, is considered the leading candidate for the permanent job. He has received the endorsement of the state Republican Appointments Committee and of Missouri's only Republican Congressman, Rep. Gene Taylor of Sarcoxie.

Court rejects highest bid on deposits

BENTON — Scott County Court Monday designated First National Bank of Sikeston as the main depository and clearing house for county funds.

The County Court can accept the highest and best bid submitted, but does not necessarily have to accept the highest and may choose the one the court decides is best for the county.

First National Bank will receive the county collector's funds and three equal parts of the county treasurer's deposits. Bank of Sikeston was awarded two parts of the county treasurer's fund and Security National Bank will receive one part.

The three banks have agreed to pay 10.02 per cent interest on time deposits of more than $100,000 deposited from 30 to 89 days. Previously the banks have paid 8.02 percent interest.

Interest rates on deposits from 90 to 179 days will be 6.75 percent and will rise to 7 per cent on lengths of time from 180 days to one year, and is 7.5 percent on deposits of more than one year.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Steve Taylor who acted as legal advisor to the County Court on the selection of the county depository, said the new rate is the highest interest rate ever to be earned by the County Court on deposits.

It was brought out that, in First National Bank's bid, the bank offered an interest rate on daily balances, single maturity, time deposits of $100,000 or more for "the county collector's fund" and six equal parts, an interest rate of 16.88 per cent.

This meant that First National would have paid this interest rate if all the county funds had been deposited in its bank with a balance of $100,000 or more. Money deposited in this manner would have resulted in several thousand dollars additional interest to the county.

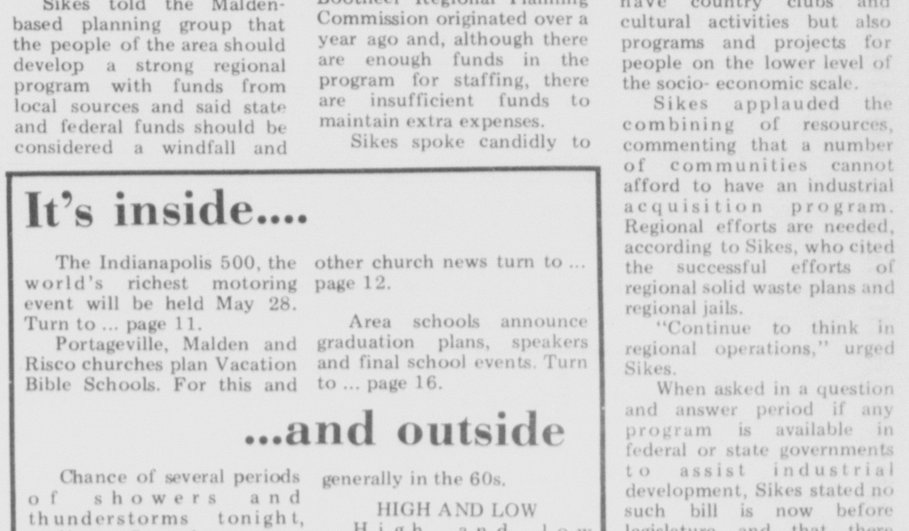

The court felt, however, the best way was to continue as it had in the past (placing funds in more than one bank) and not accept or take advantage of the 16.88 interest being offered.

In regard to why the County Court would not accept the 16.88 percent interest to earn more money for the county, Presiding Judge Les Lankford said he did not see why anyone would criticize the court decision to split the money between the banks in Sikeston when some of the banks in the county were not receiving any portion of the money.

Although Lankford added that the court might place some of the County's revenue- sharing money in different banks around the county, except for the Bank of Illmo which has the county library funds. Lankford also added that in Sikeston and Chaffee they already have money deposited in savings and loan associations. He said the court will ask for the same amount of interest on that money as it will receive from the banks in Sikeston.

Lankford said the 10.02 per cent interest was the highest interest in the state he knows of and that other counties do not have it as

OF SERVITUDE

Saturday, May 12th was an unsual day. That was the day in 1971 when the average American taxpayer finally quit working for the government and began working for himself. From January 1 until May 9 -- over four months -- every dollar he earned would be required to pay taxes on his earnings for the year. Stated in another way, the average American taxpayer worked two hours and 49 minutes out of an eight-hour day just to pay his tax bills.

If this is not chilling enough, consider then the following figures; half of the federal individual income tax in the United States is paid by persons earning between $5,000 and $15,000 a year. It took the U. S. government 186 years to reach its first $100 billion budget -- and only nine years to reach $200 billion. The interest on the federal debt today is $20 billion -- more than the entire cost of operating the federal government only 29 years ago in 1941. State and local governmental revenues are going up at the rate of approximately 12 percent a year and will double in less than seven years. The $201 billion federal budget for 1972 will cost every individual in the United States, from the newborn baby to the oldest centenarian, almost $1,000 -- to be exact, $980. In spite of all this, the old fallacy still persists that a handout from Uncle Sam is free.

Leave well enough alone. Heaven knows, it's bad enough as it is without messing around with it.

What has become of the old fashioned people who called chewing gum wax?

We have been doing some tax calculations lately because we've been somewhat irked to find that federal employes and many other state and local governments employes are allowed more time off and holidays than workers in private enterprises enjoy.

We figure that our salary from January through May would go to pay our federal taxes: income, and excise levies on air transportation, automobiles, telephone calls, tobacco, alcohol, gasoline, tires and other things.

We also figured we would work during June and July to pay state and local taxes: state income, real property, intangible, gasoline, state sales, county sales, tobacco, and alcohol, and sundry licenses and fees that none of us can really keep in mind.

But for the first five months, we were working to support the federal government. That makes us federal employes. Right?

So we figure that as a worker for the federal government, we should henceforth observe their hours and holidays. Although our boss doesn't agree with this, we hold that our stand for equality for those who work to support the federal, state and local governments with those directly on the government payroll is entirely logical.

And who knows? When we die, maybe they'll declare a national holiday. And all of you will get another day off.

"It's Good for What Ails You!"

ECONOMICS

The current recession, although mild measured by previous pauses in the nation's growth, lends emphasis to one economic fact of life. Contrary to the school of dreamers that sees something evil in the idea of business making a profit, the moment profits start to decline, the first to be hit in this era of high taxation are the tax revenues that provide the lifeblood of a welfare state. U. S. Treasury Secretary Kennedy predicted sometime ago that there would almost surely be a budget defict in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1970, and observed that there is not much that can be done about lower corporate tax receipts since the drop in corporate profits is a necessary part of controlling inflation.

This little lesson in economics should not be lost on those who profess to see no relationship between business profits and government spending capability -- to say nothing of the bearing which profits have on the jobs and living standards of more than 200 million U. S. citizens. Preservation of the right to profit from ones' efforts, whether individual or corporate, is the starting point of all human endeavor.

TOO MUCH REGULATION?

Regulation of an industry can be carried far beyond the point of serving the public interest. Such may be the case with the U. S. pharmaceutical industry. The New York Stock Exchange magazine reports tha the drug industry faces problems; among them the increasing difficulty in bringing drugs successfully to market. The equipment and research and testing techniques have grown more expensive, and demands on the staff of the Food and Drug Administration have resulted in a slowdown of new- product review. Consequently, according to The Exchange magazine, a number of major drug companies are diversifying into other lines. These include: home cleaning products, thermal pollution control equipment and dietary foods for dogs and cats.

Diversification, in many instances, is a healthy development. But, when a company is forced to diversify by the sheer weight of inhibiting legislative restrictions and a never ending prospect of abuse from investigators, there is something wrong. It could be catastrophic when such a company is a producer of lifesaving miracle drugs, and its laboratories are part of a research - oriented industry on which the public must depend for the scientific breakthroughs that advance standards of health care for all people.

What many fail to realize is that a taxpaying, investor - owned enterprise, including a drug manufacturer, must earn a profit as the first condition of responding to its other obligations - - obligations to the public, to stockholders and employees. The prescription drug industry has poured millions of dollars into research. Profits have made this research possible. Drug industry diversification may help to assure future profits and growth in a vital enterprise -- in spite of political harassment.

SAFETY AFLOAT

The weeks of summer are upon us; and, in the warm days to come, tens of millions of people will find relaxation and enjoyment in, on or around the water. Some 42 million Americans will take to the water in small boats.

The National Director of the Red Cross Safety Programs has suggested a number of rules which should be observed by all individuals who operate small boats or plan to ride in them as passengers. Every boat should be equipped with such safety equipment as approved life jackets for every passenger, an anchor, extra line, fire extinguisher, tool kit and first aid kit. Boat operators should keep an eye on the weather and avoid the pitfalls of overpowering and overloading with passengers. A little forethought and care will make this summer afloat a happy and enjoyable one. Be prepared for every situation you can imagine and then be ready for the unexpected. Most important of all, if an emergency occurs -- think, don't panic. This is the basic rule for a happy ending to every story of fun afloat.

YOUTHFUL
SENILITY A study of the problems of growing old in America has turned up a bit of information on senility, which is supposedly one of the afflictions of age, that may explain the aberrations of some of our younger people. The study found that, "... senile traits are not peculiar to the aged. A group of college students and a group of the elderly were recently rated according to the characteristics of senility, and the students were found to be the more neurotic, negative, dissatisified, socially inept and unrealistic. The students, in sum, were more senile than their elders."

It is gratifying to discover that some of the more extreme exhibitionism and general hell raising among a minority of youths is not the work of imbeciles or communists, but rather symptoms of early senility.

MORE EFFECTIVE USE OF SCIENCE
IS URGED

"There is a desperate need for government and business to put science to work more effectively and more productively in determining priorities and formulating solutions for the vast problems facing the nation and the world, "Dr. Jesse Werner, president and chairman of GAF Corp., said in an address at the annual dinner meeting in New York of the Society of Chemical Industry.

Dr. Werner stated that putting science to work "would bring a sense of reality to the decision - making process for our country and would utilize the most pragmatic group whose talents have not yet been tapped for this purpose."

In discussing the formation of such a group, he said that it should be "independent politically and in all other ways."

"When I think of the resources of this group, I am not unmindful of the vast scientific capabilities of the companies that would be represented," Dr. Werner said. "All of this would be available to the country. It would place at the disposal of the government and the public sector a body of talent that has thus far been used primarily for private purpose."

POLICE

One of the most maligned professional men in the nation is the police officer. He has taken abuse on the streets that the average citizen would not endure. He has been spat upon by rioters. He has been cursed. He has been called "pig." Because of his fear of lenient court rulings he has taken all this and not struck back. He is afraid he will violate the civil rights of his molester.

Still he is the man who goes into the darkened building alone looking for the armed burglar. He is the man who stops a traffic offender who may have just robbed a drive-in grocery store. He is the man who attempts to "cool" riot-prone people with soft words. In a word, he is our friend. We should appreciate him. He is our first line of defense against violence. He is the man who may save our lives with mouth-to- mouth resuscitation.

The police officer deserves support. One way to do it is through the program of Law-Aid. Tell him he is doing a good job. Support his community activities, such as police athletic leagues. Give him tips on suspicious automobiles and persons. The information might prove useful. Aid him physically if he is under attack. There are many ways that we can let the men of the first line of defense know that we do appreciate them and are proud of their activities on our behalf.

There are many detractors of the police forces in our nation. True, some people have legitimate complaints, most of them of a minor nature. The real enemies, however, are those extreme leftists who would destroy us from within by breaking the spirit of the policemen. HLH

Anyone who has this sickness sympathizes with those women, often elderly, who make the news pages because they are found to have 20 or more cats in their house in violation of some city ordinance.

To be "feline prone" is to be loved by cats.

Thus a householder who likes these animals is in danger of having more around than he really wants. Take some recent neighborhood examples.

In one instance, a family down the block had an affectionate female alley version of the cat family. Then the family obtained a Siamese kitten.

This put Alley's nose out of joint, and the next morning we nearly tripped over her as we went to get the morning paper.

Alley stayed on the front stoop for about three days, meowing piteously and growing visibly thinner, a trick cats have when they want sympathy. At last some kind soul in the household gave her a snack.

Now she considers herself our cat, a constant companion on our doorstep except in bad weather when she finds her way into the garage.

We acquired another cat some years ago which we will call Rusty. He grew thinner by the minute. Still, we din't want to feed him and be accused of stealing the neighbor's animal.

But it finally became such a pitiful situation that occasionally a piece of scrap would fall accidentally out the door. And in no time at all, Rusty considered himself our cat.

It all started with a ceremony. The neighbor decided Rusty had fleas and invited all the neighborhood over for a defleaing party.

He had bought a tube of flea powder that emits a puff of medication when you squeeze it.

Rusty at that moment turned his head to see what was going on and got the first puff right in his mouth.

It was pure panic.

Rusty tried to get away and dug in his claws for traction. The neighbor tried to hold him and only got slashed some more.

Rusty made one great jump to a porch pillar, then to the roof and across it in a great circle, leaped to the ground and jumped an eight-foot fence. It was the last time the neighbor ever saw Rusty.

Went over the next afternoon to see how the neighbor was recovering and was met by his wife.

"He's sleeping right now," she said.

"Had to feed him a tranquilizer and put him to bed about 4 o'clock this morning.

"He was up all night, going up and down the alleys, calling, 'Kitty, kitty, kitty.'

"The police picked him up twice.

"If somebody doesn't find that cat, he's going to have to take a round of rabies shots."

So Rusty showed up at our house, but the only signs of madness came at feeding times. Turned out he went wild when the menu was sardines. —— Hal Boyle is ill —— I End advance Fri. PMs May 11.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

Duffers' Delight

WASHINGTON— Representative Burt Talcott, R— Calif., the dapper sportsman from Salinas, is fond of lecturing his fellow congressmen on the rules of dress and decorum he thinks should be observed on the House floor.

Yet he didn't mind violating the rules of decorum to wangle prizes and trophies for the First Annual Congressional Golf Tournament last September. As chairman of the outdoor frolic, he helped put the squeeze on Washington's lobbyists for a cornucopia of valuable gifts.

Talcott wasn't deterred at first by warnings that we might find out about the flood of sports equipment, TV sets, windbreakers, gift certificates and shiny merchandise that the lobbyists were donating. Representative John Hunt, R-N.J., even warned in a personal memo to Talcott that playing the tournament in Washington might be "too risky. Remember Anderson."

We apologize for taking so long to dig out the details. We have now learned, however, that gifts poured in for the congressional golfers from the industries they are supposed to oversee-- Abbott Labs, American Can, Celanese, Fairchild Industries, General Tire, Goodrich, Goodyear, Gulf Oil, Humble Oil, Japan Air Lines, Lockheed, Magnavox, Marriott Hotels, Northrop, Northwest Orient, Olin, Ralston Purina, Raytheon, Squibb and Uniroyal.

COULDN'T REFUSE

Generous gifts were also donated by trade organizations representing the textile makers, chicken raisers, cattlemen and broadcasters. Even American-Standard in New York provided two gaily decorated toilet seats for some deserving congressman.

Talcott left it largely to his prize chairman, Rep. Roger Zion, R- Ind., to collect the boodle. The amiable Zion mailed out a letter to some 200 lobbyists, soliciting prizes in language they couldn't refuse.

"You have a great opportunity to promote your product (or industry) to your elected Representatives," wrote Zion on official House stationery. He told the lobbyists that he hoped each of the 80 or 90 congressional duffers would "come home with a prize or two... Would you please find some suitable prize (or prizes)... and send same to me at the above address."

Zion's office filled up with so many fancy prizes that Talcott began to get uneasy. Quietly, he called potential donors to urge them not to give any more and apologized to more scrupulous congressmen about the Zion letter.

Still, the gifts gushed in. Representative William Dickinson, R— Ala., wrung 11 windbreakers from the Russell Company. Senator Paul Fannin, R— Ariz., notified Talcott he had come up with a set of woods from Ping Manufacturing.

WILSON GOLF
BAGS

Representative Wiley Mayne, R- Iowa, reported he could wangle five golf bags from Wilson Sporting Goods if Talcott wanted them, although Mayne advised cautiously that "I personally don't think (it) would be a good idea" to let Wilson handle all sports prizes as Wilson had offered.

The hole- in- one chairman, Rep. John Rousselot, R- Calif., after failing to get Ford to "volunteer" a one- year free lease on a Pinto, approached the National Auto Dealers Association. He was referred to a car rental firm where he got the promise of a free three-month lease. But none of the congressmen got a hole- in-one.

Representative Harold Collier, R- Ill., arranged the tournament at famed Burning Tree, a private golf course. But he became so aghast over the solicitation of gifts that he cancelled it. The tournament wound up instead on the golf course at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, since the brass hats, like the lobbyists, were in no position to refuse.

After chewing up the fairways at Andrews, the congressmen made one last assault on the lobbyists' pocketbooks. They were invited to attend a gala cocktail party at the expense of the U.S. Independent Telephone Association.

Footnote: Talcott is again heading up the annual Congressional Golf Tournament, but he assured us there'll be no more "general solicitation." Said the rueful Talcott: "We've all learned something."

WASHINGTON WHIRL

MILLION— DOLLAR BRIBE? Representative Charles Rangel, D- N.Y., claims ITT's million- dollar offer to help finance a CIA sabotage operation against Chile's President Salvadore Allende was a bribe. In a letter to departing Attorney General Richard Kleindienst, Rangle, an attorney, wrote: "In my opinion, this offer of money to the CIA was a violation of the federal bribery statute. It is difficult for me to see how an offer of one million dollars to the government could be construed in any other way than as an inducement meant to influence a certain policy decision. I am quite puzzled by the lack of action on the part of federal prosecutors."

WATERGATE FRIENDSHIP: At least one long- standing friendship has withstood the test of Watergate. Spencer Oliver, the Democratic official whose phone was tapped by the Watergate bugging crew, remains on close personal terms with President Nixon's speech writer, Pat Buchanan. The two grew up together in Washington. Although they wound up at opposite political poles, they still meet at night and aruge their political differences over drinks. Incidentally, Buchanan has told Oliver he's convinced the President had no prior knowledge of the tap on Oliver's phone.

Inside White House:
Agnew Ready for Action
But Not For Window-Dressing

WASHINGTON— The Vice President can keep his cool, his temper and his timing. I recall one small luncheon discussion during which a globally famous newsman said, "Patriotism never should prevent the full reporting of a story regardless of consequences." Spiro (Ted) Agnew's reply was off the record. But it was moderate in tone albeit sharp in opinion.

The duel didn't last. The Secret Service whispered something. A bomb threat. He rose saying little except that it might be time to go. We rose. And his most bitter critics burst into applause--- and then returned to their studios to beat in his political brains for hours on end.

He had leveled with them. They with him. His private image sharply contrasted with the public picture etched on long journeys fulfilling political assignments for Mr. Nixon--- and Bob Haldeman and John Ehrlichman, too.

The latter two courtiers were specialists in turning Ted Agnew into the forgotten man between assignments. He has not forgotten. No one does. So despondent--- disgusted might be a better word-- did he become early in 1972 that he refused to consider running as Dick Nixon's running mate. Not out of disrespect for the President. But out of distaste and disrespect for the two men who attempted to isolate and cut him down.

For more than a week after the '72 election, for example, he did not see the President. Then he was invited to Camp David for a discussion of the reorganization of the second-term administration. Somehow, presidential counsel (at that time) John Dean 3d flew in, too.

Not much was changed on the Oval Room threshold. So it went until the sluice gates broke at Watergate. On Tuesday, May 1, the President--- after a long day of meeting with the "leadership" and the Cabinet--- invited Ted Agnew in for an hour- long discussion of White House reorganization. And on other matters, presumably.

Mr. Nixon sought Ted Agnew's expertise. This is in urban affairs, the specialty Haldeman and Ehrlichman turned off. The Vice President knows community relations as a reverend knows the gospel. Having been a labor lawyer, he knows the labor movement--- and many of its leaders by first name. He never got hung up (except as an image) on legislation and thus made no enemies.

And, though it is forgotten, it was not Labor Secretary Pete Brennan or any of the White House insiders who first got to the hard hats. It was Ted Agnew in the 1968 campaign. He drew massive crowds in Michigan's auto belt then as he did with boilermakers in the final weeks of the '72 campaign.

"Agnew probably strikes closer to the kind of people who voted for Nixon in the labor movement than any of the other Republicans," said one of the most knowledgeable labor officials. "He is the original hard- hat attraction. He got them long before that innter White House crowd discovered there are blue collars."

So Ted Agnew and Dick Nixon talked. The two courtiers who had tried to drive him from office and who had isolated him into despondency last year (so much so that he refused to agree to make any significant political moves until some 60 days before the Republican convention) were not around. Nor was that chap Dean.

The President urged him into activity; sought his advice on reorganizing the White House bureaucratic structure; put him on the quadriad (the economic high command); made him vice chairman of the Domestic Council--- once headed by Ehrlichman--- and recast the man the courtiers had tried to dump into limbo.

Ted Agnew is willing. But he is waiting. He wants to know who actually will be running the White House. Ted Agnew does not merely want to fill in for Ehrlichman. He's too shrewd a politico to move into the open before he knows exactly what his responsibilities will be and before he has the authority to exercise them.

He wants a specific delineation of authority. And he doesn't want to be window-dressing, say his friends. He wants to hit the domestic front. He knows it well. During both campaigns he's traveled some 100,000 miles. He was shrill at times and blew the whistle. But he went low-profile, soft and low- voiced when needed.

If his friends are correct and I talk of his intimates, he has given no sign of wanting the 1976 presidential nomination. His wife wants out of politics. She dislikes the public glare.

So Ted Agnew, clean as a scrub nurse newly arrived on duty, awaits his newest assignments. The titles he has. Now he wants the quiet word from the President to go ahead. If he gets it, he becomes one of the administration's most influential men--- if not actually the most influential. If John Connally overshadows him, with the consent of the President, Ted Agnew will play it cool, take his time, and leave politics to the power elite. And go into private practice. There's just nothing wrong with time for golf at Palm Springs. As for the administration--- loyalty, yes; window- dressing, no.

10 cases heard in City Court

Nineteen cases were brought before City Court Thursday night, but nine of them were continued for trial at a later date.

Court actions and fines included: Dennis Gene Burgess of Charleston, assault and battery, $85; Michael Don Williamson, 303 Lions, speeding, $15; Herman Hart, 107 Dudley, speeding, $35; Hershall Wheelis, 107 Adams, peace disturbance, $35; Thad Ed Campbell, 204 Wakefield, careless and imprudent driving, $15; Carl Edward Holifield, 201 Lions, public intoxication, forfeited bond of $19.

Price to be sentenced

BENTON— Parole was revoked for Danny Shyone Price of Sikeston Thursday in Circuit Court by Judge Marshall Craig and Price was ordered to serve a previous one- year jail sentence handed down to him on Jan. 25 for stealing a tape player and tapes from Charles Lewis on Sept. 25.

Price had been placed on two years probation on Feb. 22 on condition he would not violate the law or associate with any one who did.

Prosecuting Attorney Jim Moore said probation for Price was revoked because he pleaded guilty to charges brought against him for stealing from Lewis Furniture Co. on March 20, three black and white television sets, one tape deck, one amplifier and record player. Price will report back before Judge Craig on May 24 for sentencing, which is now being taken under advisement.

Danny Lewis appeared in court for sentencing after pleading guilty on April 12 to charges of burglary and stealing at Jolly's Feed Barn Restaurant in Blodgett on Feb. 16. The court ordered a presentence investigation be made on Lewis to see if he might be suitable for probation. The Court continued his case until June 14 for further consideration.

Punishment was taken under advisement for Johnny Ray Wyatt of Morley and he was ordered to report back on June 14 for sentencing. The court ordered a presentence investigation be made on Wyatt.

Wyatt is charged with burglary and stealing of Jolly's Feed Barn Restaurant in Blodgett on Feb. 16.

Case was continued until May 24 for Nancy Mason on a nonsupport charge against T. Jo Mason.

House passes patrol bill

JEFFERSON CITY— Sikeston moved one step closer Thursday to receiving a highway patrol substation when the Missouri House of Representatives passed a bill to expand the size of the patrol.

Rep. C.F. Cline, Sikeston Democrat, said the bill, which passed 146- 2, now goes to the Senate where it faces little or no opposition.

The bill was part of a compromise solution to the controversy over the construction of a new highway patrol headquarters in Troop E. Sikeston was chosen as the location, but the patrol reversed itself when Col. Sam Smith replaced Col. E.I. Hockaday as patrol commander.

Motorcyclist hurt

Terry Dewayne Gramling, 228 Harry St., was injured about 11 a.m. Thursday when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile at the intersection of East Malone Avenue and Ingram Road.

Police said it took more than 20 minutes for an ambulance to arrive at the scene after the call had been placed. Gramling was taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital with injuries of the left hip and right leg.

Willard C. Ables, 2200 Ables Road, driver of the car which struck Gramling, told police he looked down the road but didn't see the cycle before he pulled across Malone. Ables was going south on Ingram.

Gramling told police he saw the Ables car but was unable to stop.

Police arrested Ables for careless and imprudent driving.

Other arrests announced today included Frank Doran Reed of Fredericktown, driving while intoxicated; Tom Robey, 232 Moore, public intoxication; Letha Sexton of Benton, careless and imprudent driving; and Claude Stroud, Buchannon Courts, Apt. 9, public intoxication.

East Prairie city council sets special election date

EAST PRAIRIE — A special election to fill a vacancy on the city council will be held June 11 and a primary election to narrow the field to two candidates has been set for June 4. The city council Thursday night set the election dates and announced the deadline for filing will be at 5 p.m., May 25.

Three candidates, Leondas Allen, Mrs Lawanda Douglas and Jack Tucker, have filed to date for the position left vacant by the late W. E. Moss. The term will expire April 2, 1974.

Following a report from councilman Jones Hedge on a meeting of the park and recreation commission, the council agreed to spend $1,000 of revenue sharing funds for employment of a summer recreation director and for the purchase of baseball equipment. The council also agreed to donate $150 toward the cost of the Fourth of July fireworks display.

City Manager Gene Cullen said he had applied to the Division of Employment Security for five persons to work under the summer work program. If approved, the program for disadvantaged youth between the ages of 14 and 22 will begin June 11 and continue through Aug. 17.

The council adopted an interim flood ordinance in order to qualify the city for national flood insurance.

A public hearing was called by the liquor control board after a complaint was filed against Guy Turnbow's Tavern, alleging his place of business has been termed a public nuisance since opening in February. The hearing will be held at 7 p.m. May 23 in the council chambers.

The council voted to protest the abandonment of the Cape Girardeau- St. Louis Bus Line.

In routine action the council approved the collector's report, of $8,022.02 for April; payment of expenditures totaling $3,534.59; and the police judge report, which showed a total of $666 in assessed fines for the month.

Construction on schedule at Madrid County center

HOWARDVILLE — Progress on the New Madrid County R-1 Vocational Skills Center is on schedule, according to Dr. George S. Reuter Jr., superintendent of schools, who said plans call for the new facility to be operational in September.

Dr. Reuter reported a few minor things remain to be done to complete the center and added that equipment which is arriving daily is being installed.

At least 11 instructional areas will be open this fall, including business data processing, secretaril science, general business (machines), accounting, health occupations, institutional foods, welding technology, graphic occupations, auto body and fender, auto mechanics and building trades and agricultural mechanics.

All courses with the exception of accounting secretarial science and general business, are two-year courses. These courses are one year and each has a prerequisite of two business courses which must be completed in the unit school. In secretarial science, a student must have completed typing and shorthand prior to enrollment.

District students will be transported to the new facility for half-day instruction. They will then return to their home school for the remainder of the day.

Attorney appointed for Grisso by Magistrate Court

CHARLESTON — An attorney was appointed for Billy Wayne Grisso of Charleston for representation on felony charges of assault with intent to kill, stealing and two counts of burglary Thursday by Magistrate T. J. Brown Jr.

Grisso is accused of assaulting Mrs. Elizabeth "Sis" Webb after entering her home on Court Street in Charleston May 4 and demanding $1,200. He is also accused of burglarizing offices in the Mississippi County courthouse the same day. Bond on all charges was set at $5,000.

Thomas Walls of Bertrand waived a preliminary hearing on felony charges of burglary and stealing and was bound over to circuit court for a June 12 appearance. He is accused of breaking into Cunningham's Gift Shop in Bertrand April 18 and stealing $51.

A felony charge of tampering with a motor vehicle against Maurice Eugene Wright of Bertrand was reduced to a misdemeanor of stealing less than $50. A 60- day jail sentence was suspended and Wright was placed on one year progation. The same charge against Thomas Walls was dismissed.

A preliminary hearing scheduled for Thursday for Jimmie Darrell Hicks of Sikeston, charged with breaking and entering and burglary, was reset for May 24. Hicks, accused of breaking into the home of Harry Keener in Charleston and stealing $20, is free on $500 bond.

A preliminary hearing for Larry David Williams of East Prairie, charged with carrying a concealed weapon and exhibiting and flourishing a dangerous and deadly weapon, was scheduled for June 16.

May 31 was set as preliminary hearing date for O'Nela Widdows of East Prairie, who is charged with felonious assault. He is accused of flourishing a .22 caliber rifle in the presence of Bob Haddock on April 30.

Preliminary hearing for Mike Harvell, charged with the felony of tampering with a motor vehicle, was set for May 24 and bond was fixed at $1,000. Ozine Davis, also charged with tampering with a motor vehicle, had his case continued to May 17 and was released on his own recognizance.

Perry Bailey waived preliminary hearing on a charge of disposing of mortgaged chattel and was bound over to Circuit Court. He was released on his own recognizance in custody of his attorney.

George W. Bailey of Charleston was sentenced to 30- days in the county jail on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while operator's license was revoked. Isom Dunigan Jr. of East Prairie received a 10- day suspended sentence and was placed on six months probation for driving while under revocation. Conditions of probation were that the obey the law and pay court costs of $16.

Other misdemeanor charges and fines included: Dennis Ray McKinney of East Prairie, expired vehicle license, $21; Billy Gene Dowdy of East Prairie, speeding, $36.50; Gary Lee Adkisson of Charleston, expired trailer license, $21; Timothy Patrick Allred of East Prairie, careless and imprudent driving, $31; Anthony Graham Childers of Charleston, speeding, $32; Robert Nelson Henry of Charleston, careless and reckless driving, $41; and Herbert Stallings, disturbing the peace, 30 day suspended sentence and one year probation, plus $17.50 costs. Jimmy Jackson, Albert Reed and Stanford Nevels all of Wyatt were each fined $37.84 and given 30- day suspended sentences on peace disturbance charges.

The three were also placed on one year probation.

A common assault charge against Herbert Chappel was continued to May 17 and he was released on his own recognizance. Continued to May 24 was a charge of unlicensed operator against Jasper Williams of Sikeston and a common assault charge against Edward Holmes.

Other cases this week in magistrate court include: Harry Lee Lindley of East Prairie, improper registration, $35.50; Roy Esco Bone Sr., speeding, $26; Frankie Alton Slatton, no Missouri PSC authority, $41; Jimmy Lee Nolan, improper registration and operating a motorcycle without motorcycle qualification license, $26. Disturbing the peace charges against Billy Patrick and Roy Gene Patrick were dismissed at $19.20 costs.

Fire damages truck

NEW MADRID — Firemen were called at 2:50 p.m. Thursday to Riverview Grocery on Highway 61 South where a Pemiscot County dump truck from Caruthersville had caught fire.

The driver was unable to extinguish the blaze but damage was limited to the motor area. The fire is believed to have been caused when the truck backfired as the driver attempted to start it.

Lawnmower stolen from Witt home

The mower was reportedly taken sometime between 6 p.m. Wednesday and 6:45 a.m. Thursday while setting in the yard by the back door of the house. Witt placed the value of the mower at $120.

Ann Landers

Stepdad should knock before entering bedroom

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married to this man for 12 years. My daughter by a previous marriage is 15. Bill has been a good father to Wendy and to our own two children.

About two years ago I noticed that Bill fooled around with Wendy a lot, punching her, pulling her on his lap, and tickling her. She would run giggling and screaming into the other room. It seemed like innocent fun and I said nothing, although he never behaved like that with our own two daughters.

Lately he has been walking into Wendy's bedroom "to hurry her up" when she is dressing. This morning I heard her shout, "Please, will you knock first? I hate it when you just walk in and I have nothing on."

I had a private chat with Wendy that night and she said he has never done anything "wrong" but she wishes her stepdad would "leave her alone." Wendy is very mature for 15 and now I suddenly remember other letters in your column about fathers and stepdaughters. Please repeat the advice. I blocked it out of my consciousness and now I know why.--- Freud Was No Fool

Dear Freud: The advice goes like this: A 15- year- old girl is more of a woman than a child. She is old enough to tell a stepfather, a boyfriend or a Funny Uncle to keep his peapickin' hands off her body--- if she really wants them kept off. Some teenagers are testing their wow- power just to see if it works, so don't make any rash assumptions, Mom. That train runs both ways.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been able to handle life's major problems without help. But the petty things somehow get ballooned into enormous proportions.

Doesn't a four- generation photograph mean four people in the same family, such as a great- grandmother, grandmother, mother and the baby--- all directly related? If, say, the baby is adopted, doesn't that break the bloodline.

Please put your answer in the paper. If I produced a letter from you they'd say I wrote it myself. You can't imagine the arguing that has been going on in regard to this difference in opinion.--- Fur Is Flying In Austin, Texas

Dear Fur: Yes, I CAN imagine. And from the way you worded the question, I'll bet you aren't going to be happy with my answer.

An adopted child should have exactly the same status as any other child. And this goes for family pictures as well as everything else.

Dear Ann Landers: You seem to be straightforward and not afraid to say exactly what you think. Please don't let me down. The problem is with my parents.

Is there anything wrong with correcting your dad or mother if they say something fake in front of company? I was brought up to think that lying is wrong no matter who does it. If a kid is taught that he must always tell the truth and then he hears one of his parents breaking that rule, is it wrong to say so in front of whoever happens to be there? I hope you get the picture.--- A Correcter In Trouble

Dear Correcter: I get the picture all right, but I'd like to point out that tact and consideration for a person's feelings can be just as important as honesty. You should have waited until the company left before you "corrected" your parents. No one likes to be hauled up short in front of his friends.

Even if drinking is the "in" thing in your crowd, it needn't crowd you out. Learn the facts from Ann Landers' booklet, "Booze And You--- For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35c in coin and a long, self- addressed, stamped envelope to this newspaper with your request.

OPERETTA WEEKS, 150th YEAR AS A SPA

BAD ISCHL, Austria (AP) — Operetta Weeks here will run from July 15 to Sept. 9 this year. The program calls for nine performances of Franz Lehar's "The Merry Widow," seven performances of "Csardas Princess" by Emmerich Kalman and two operetta concerts.

To commemorate the 150th anniversary of Bad Ischl's status as a spa, a Biedermeier exhibition and an historical pageant also will be mounted.

Two will receive top awards

They are F. Marion Rhodes of Arlington, Va., near Washington, D.C., and Dr. Marlin E. Remley of Northridge, Calif., near Los Angeles.

Rhodes, a 1932 graduate of Southeast Missouri State, had a long career with the U. S. Department of Agriculture before becoming president of the cotton exchange in 1960.

Dr. Remley, a member of the Southeast Missouri State Class of 1941, has been with various divisions of North American Rockwell since he received his Ph. D. in physics in 1952 from the University of Illinois. At present, he is manager of the Health, Safety and Radiation Services Department of Atomics International.

The two men will become the 25th and 26th recipients of Southeast Missouri State Alumni Merit Awards. The awards program was initiated in 1958.

Their citations will be presented at the graduation exercises which will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday in Houck Stadium on the campus. Approximately 850 students are expected to receive degrees.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton will be the speaker.

Earlier on graduation day, students and faculty will attend the baccalaureate service at 9 a.m. in the auditorium of Academic Hall. The speaker will be Dr. Raymond F. McCallister, first vice president of the World Convention of the Churches of Christ and pastor of the Webster Groves Crhistian Church since 1939.

From 4 to 5:50 p.m. the annual alumni reception will be held in the ballroom of Memorial Hall. The reception honors the graduating class and Alumni Merit Award winners.

Powers-Proffer

GULFPORT, Miss. — In a candlelight ceremony at First United Methodist Church, Miss Jana Kay Proffer became the bride of Daniel Garland Powers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Louis Proffer of Gulfport, formerly of Sikeston, Mo., and Mrs. and Mrs. Garland Eugene Powers of Natchez.

The Rev. R. Stewart Smith officiated at the double- ring ceremony before an altar adorned with brass urns holding massive colonial bouquets of white tulips and baby's breath. Crystal votive lights in four arched candelabra, which were entwined with fern and magnolia leaves, lighted the sanctuary. Lighting the stained glass windows were large white candles banked with glossy greens native to the coast.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Howard Yund, organist, and Adam Ortiz, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian gown designed by Pricilla of Boston of peau de faille in a soft candlelight tone. English net fashioned the rounded yoke with Dutchess neckline and Juliet sleeves appliquet in re-embroidered Alencon lace. Elaborate appliques of the rich lace in scroll designs extended down the front of the controlled skirt and the full chapel train was enhanced with lace appliques in floral designs. Over this she wore a cathedral- length heirloom Brussels mantilla held by a Juliet cap of matching lace. The bride wore an heirloom string of pearls and carried an arm bouquet of antique white tulips laced with baby's breath tied with white satin ribbons.

Attending her sister as maiden of honor was Miss Allison Proffer. Maid of honor was Miss Victoria Eckles of Leeds, Ala. Bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Singleton and Miss Virginia Kilpatrick of Gulfport. Miss Kevan Brown of Hattiesburg, and Miss Melissa Mims of Jackson, cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of sun yellow chiffon with high neck and long fitted sleeves finished with a double flounce. A self ruffle fell down the side front and extended around the hem line of the A-line skirt.

Mrs. Powers selected a sky blue chiffon princess gown featuring a V-neckline with self ruffle and wrist-length sleeves with double ruffles of self material. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Mrs. W. A. McDonald, grandmother of the bride, wore a street- length dress of aqua blue linen with matching cardigan jacket. Mrs. Ralph L. Proffer of Sikeston, Mo., grandmother of the bride, chose a sheath dress with full long sleeves of French blue crepe. Mrs. Willis E. Black of Natchez, grandmother of the groom, selected a navy princess dress and jacket with white collar and cuffs. All wore corsages of white orchids.

Attending his brother as best man was Keith Powers of Natchez. Groomsmen were Frank Johnson, University of Mississippi, Buz Lowry of Jackson, Jordan Hankins of Jackson, Larry Bryan of Atlanta, Ga. and Billy Ayers of Memphis, Tenn. Ushers were Gary Powers of Clinton and Patrick Powers of Natchez, brothers of the groom, and Mark Martin of Gulfport.

The reception was held in the home and garden of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. Wrought iron hurricane lamps lined the brickwalks to the front entry and to the green and white striped tent in the garden. Music in the garden was presented by Joe Schultz.

The bride and groom, their parents and Mrs. H. Rivers Singleton received the guests in the living room. Mrs. Thomas Hulsey Anderson greeted guests in the entry hall. Forsythia filled the antique Japanese jardinieres in the deep window sills. Garlands of pine and boxwood, tied with white satin cord with tassels, decorated the mantle and entry hall staricase. White tapers in brass candlesticks and brass wall candelabras lighted the receiving and serving rooms.

In the dining room, centering the table, covered with a white linen and lace tablecloth, was the bride's multi- tiered cake. Each tire was separated by columns and arrangements of white roses and baby's breath. Topping the cake was a replica of the bride's bouquet. On each side of the cake were white tapers in antique silver candlesticks tied with white satin cords with silk tassels. Serving the cake were Mrs. H. Cecil Kilpatrick, Mrs. Donald Cuevas, Mrs. Durant Dabbs and Mrs. Owen Palmer.

The punch table in the den held a massive arrangement of spring flowers, featuring tulips, in a silver epergne holding white tapers. A fanshaped arrangement of similar flowers was on the piano. Serving punch were Mrs. William A. Peden, Mrs. David O. Wright, Mrs. Larry Barker and Mrs. Walter W. Van Skiver.

The groom's cake, which was served in the tent, was chocolate and iced in mocha and embossed with the Kappa Sigma insignia. Mrs. Larry F. Hatfield and Mrs. Robert Mims of Jackson, Mrs. Robert Ferguson of Gulfport and Mrs. Gary Powers of Clinton served the cake.

Serving punch in the tent were Mrs. David McGee of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Douglas Medley of Gulfport, Mrs. Frank Johnson of Oxford and Miss Deborah Kaufman of Vicksburg. Others assisting with serving were Miss Debe Cuevas, Miss Nancy McKenzie, Miss Susan Townley, Miss Jan Cox, Miss Genie Palmer, Miss Jeanette Alford, Miss Candy Darling, Miss Ann Dabbs, Mrs. Jack Ballard and Mrs. Colvin Meier, all of Gulfport, and Miss Deborah Wood of Jackson.

The couple will make its home in Houston, Tex., where Powers is an accountant with Arthur Andersen and Company.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home.

This is honestly a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $2.00 ($2.25 for Rush Service)—Cash is O.K — to: Jorma Products Co., P.O. Box 2176, Leucadia, CA 92024. Don't order unless you expect to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!

Mildew check tips given

By VIRGINIA E. TWITTY
AREA HOME ECONOMIST

Is your home damp? Are some clothing and household fabrics damp? You probably do not heat your house now to dry these things out. Mildew stains are caused by molds which grow very rapidly when both dampness and warmth are present, so you probably have an ideal place for this mold and thus mildew to develop. Mildew grows well on cotton, linen, rayon, silk, wook and leather. It discolors fabrics and sometimes so destroys it that it will fall apart.

To Prevent mildew— immediately clean and dry those things that may be damp and perhaps soiled from use of water. Check all stored clothing, bedding and other household fabrics to be sure they are dry, or dry them if they are not.

To Remove Mildew— 1. Wash with soap and water. 2. Rinse well and dry in the sun, if possible. 3. If any stain remains bleach with one of the following: Lemon juice and salt, sodium perborate bleach or a chlorine bleach depending on the fabric. Do not use chlorine bleach on silk and wool. Have these dry cleaned. Some synthetic materials should not be bleached. Follow instructions on labels of bleach.

SeMo U.'s homecoming to to have centennial theme

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The theme of next October's Homecoming celebration at Southeast Missouri State University will be "1873 -- Those Were The Days -- 1973," in keeping with the university's centennial celebration which will be observed throughout the coming academic year.

Miss Hattie L. Eicholtz, director of alumni affairs at the university, said she expects Homecoming to be one of the highlights of the centennial year, probably attracting more former students to the campus than at any other time during the celebration period.

Homecoming activities will be spread over three days, Oct. 11-13, but Oct. 12 will be a special day for alumni.

Headquarters for the Oct. 12 activity will be Kent Library, and special events will include a historical slide show, historical exhibit, and bus tours of the campus.

Alumni will also have an opportunity to visit with both Dr. Arthur Mattingly of the history department and Jake Wells of the art department.

Dr. Mattingly is writing a history of the university which, it is hoped, can be published in book form. Wells is painting a 38 by 20-foot mural at the entrance to the library which depicts the historical development and cultural heritage of southeast Missouri.

Rooms will also be set aside in Kent Library on Oct. 12 for members of various reuion groups to renew old friendships. Besides the regular reunions on the 50, 25, and 10- year classes, several other groups are planning reunions.

These include all of the old literary societies which once functioned on the campus.

On Homecoming Day itself, Oct. 13, there will be the usual bill of fare -- the parade down Broadway, the alumni luncheon in Memorial Hall (expected to attract a record crowd), the football game at Houck Stadium, and after- the- game get-togethers at various restaurants in the area.

In addition to these activities there will be a number of attractions of primary interest to students, such as a concert on the evening of Oct. 11 and the Homecoming dance and queen coronation on the evening of Oct. 12.

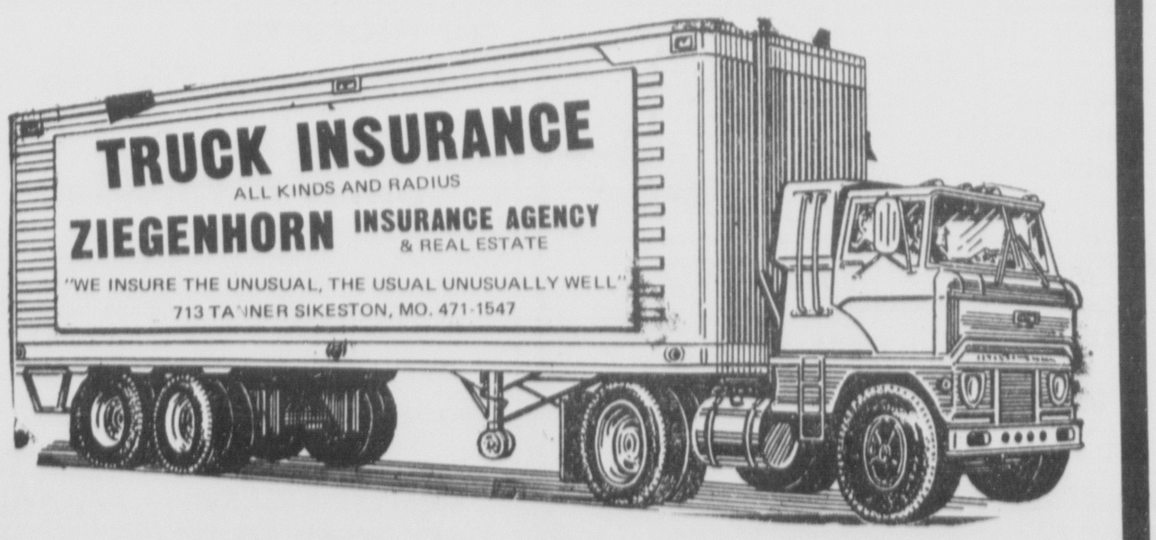

Miss Eicholtz said the Homecoming steering committee is seeking slides, photographs and other items of historical interest for the slide show and exhibit in Kent Library on Oct. 12. Alumni with items which may be of interest are encouraged to loan them to the alumni office. They will be returned.

SeMo counties among wealthiest in state

CAPE GIRARDEAU — More evidence of major growth in Cape Girardeau County came when the Jefferson City-based Missouri Association of Counties released figures of assessed valuations in the state for 1972.

The report showed Cape County ranked 12th among Missouri's 115 counties with assessed valuation — or taxable wealth — totaling $121,663,109.

The ranking of other area counties and their valuations were:

St. Francois, 16, $80,124,982; Scott, 23, $65,391,840; New Madrid, 24, $64,667,000; Stoddard, 28, $59,155,295; Dunklin, 29, $59,020,063; Butler, 33, $55,464,906; Pemiscot, 35, $52,178,148; Mississippi, 46, $43,484,905; Ste. Genevieve, 52, $37,720,178; Perry, 53, $37,552,208; Madison, 94, $20,061,993; Bollinger, 96, $19,435,374; Wayne, 107, $14,519,631.

The report said assessed value in Missouri totaled $12.2 billion last year, of which 65.7 per cent was in the form of real estate, 16.3 was personal property, 11.8 was utilities and 6.2 was merchants and manufacturers.

St. Louis County led the state with $3.1 billion, followed by St. Louis City, $1.7 billion, and Jackson County (Kansas City) $1.6 billion.

3 county health project launched

HAYTI — A project to provide improved health services for poor and indigent persons has been launched by the Missouri Delta Ecumenical Ministry, officials announced Monday night at the organization's board of directors meeting at Hayti.

The project is being developed by MDEM's Health Advisory Committee, composed of board members and others interested in public health problems in the three-county area of Dunklin, Pemiscot and New Madrid.

In outlining the project, Mrs. Mannering said the Health Advisory Committee plans to spendseveral months emphasizing health education and at the same time conduct a survey, which is already underway, to determine the specific needs of a health service for the poor.

Mrs. Mannering said the survey could show the need to develop health delivery services, noting that members of the committee had already visited one Arkansas county, where a mobile medical unit has been put into operation.

An attempt is being made to secure minimal initial funding of the project from churches at the jurisdictional level.

Mrs. Mannering said the Health Advisory Committee has also employed a director, Mrs. Mary Barth, a registered nurse and a Catholic ecumenical volunteer- in-service. Mrs. Barth is assisting in the presentation of educational programs and in the development of a medical-needs survey in the three-county area.

Green sentence stayed

CHARLESTON — Tony Michael Green of St. Louis, who pleaded guilty March 13 to a charge of unlawful possession of drugs, had a four year sentenced stayed Wednesday and was placed on probation by Circuit Judge Marshall Craig. Included in the conditions of his probation were that he refrain from association with persons dealing in drugs, obey the law, abide by the rules and regulation of his probation officer,, accept employment and undergo psychiatric treatment.

Oliver Williams St. of Wyatt received a suspended six-month jail sentence and placed on one year probation after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of felonious assault. Conditions of his probation are that he obey the law, pay costs, abide by rules of his probations officer and not frequent Jackson's tavern in Wyatt.

Slyvester Smith off Charleston was denied probation from a three year penitentiary sentence given April 10 on a stealing charge in connection with the theft of three guns from the office of Sheriff W. J. "Pedro" Simmons.

A charge of operating a motor vehicle while driver's licenses were revoked brought a one year jail sentence to Richard Pope of East Prairie. He was given credit for 10 days spent in jail prior to sentencing.

Carolyn Sue Harden was granted a divorce and custody of two children from Jerry Allen Harden. Harden was ordered to pay $15 per child, per week, child support and $250 attorney fees.

A divorce and custody of two children was granted Judith Lynn Howard from Billy Howard. Mrs. Howard is to receive $15 per child, per week child support and $250 attorneys fee. A separate agreement was made part of the decree.

Prayer for today

from the Upper Room

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. [Psalm 23:1] PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we thank You for the assurance that You are always with us to strengthen, to challenge, if we will open the door. May we experience this reality as we sincerely pray, "Come in today, come in to stay." Amen.

On Wednesday Roscoe Weltecke began the construction of a 40 x 136 foot addition to the McKnight-Keaton Wholesale Grocery building near the Frisco station.

Marion, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pattenbill, residing on Bloomfield Road, one mile southwest of Cape Girardeau, was seriously injured yesterday when a horse he was riding slipped and fell on him at the intersection of Good Hope and Pacific streets. His right leg was fractured and interal injuries, which are not expect to prove serious, were sustained. The Pattengill family, formerly lived a few miles east of Sikeston and are well known here.

Sikeston High School pupils won four first places out of a total of 13 at the big Southeast Missouri Hogh School scholastic meet in Cape Girardeau last Friday and Saturday. Among Sikeston's first place winners was the glee club, directed by Miss Violet Benson. Miss Dorothy Lillard had the distinction of winning two first places--- she won the cup in the contest for music appreciation over representatives of Poplar Bluff and Cape. She also won the piano medal in a field of 15 contestants. Miss Anita Winchester was the winner in a news writing contest and was awarded a gold medal.

Sikeston pupils also won three second place honors. The quartet, composed or Dick Stubbs, Donald Milem, Lillian Shields and Sara Malone, was awarded second; Miss Annette Smith was second place winner in the essay contest. Everett Hargrove lost first place honors in the typewriting contest by a very close margin, being defeated by Poplar Bluff. Miss Della Harper won third in the shorthand contest making less than three per cent errors in five minutes rapid dictation.

Gas available, despite closings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the closing of another 220 service stations across the nation, the government says there is no area of the country where drivers are unable to buy gasoline.

A survey by the Office of Emergency Preparedness showed Wednesday that the number of stations closed by a fuel shortage has grown from 342 to 562 since April.

The number of stations threatened by gas shortages rose from 930 to 1,376 during the period, the survey showed.

But Darrell M. Trent, acting director of the agency, said the shortages "are not expected to be of a severity to warrant rationing by the federal government."

assistance to planning commissions. Sikes commented that he is pessimistic about the bill's passage.

Henry Maddox of Jefferson City, director of the Division of Commerce and Industrial Development, agreed with Sikes that industrial development projects should be funded locally.

"There is a great deal of psychology in local funding -- if citizens have their own money in the program, they'll be more involved," Maddox said.

Maddox cited the cities of Sedalia and Hannibal as examples of successful efforts in local funding. In both cases the city, county, Chamber of Commerce and Junior Chamber of Commerce hired a full-time industrial development specialist to a three- year contract.

Maddox also commented that federal funds may not last and that financing must be done on a continuing basis. "Funding has to be on a long range basis, at least three years," he said.

good as Scott County does.

In addition to the three Sikeston banks, requests for bids were mailed to Oran State Bank, Bank of Chaffee, Bank of Illmo and Scott City Bank and Trust Co. The four smaller banks in the northern part of the county did not bid on any part of the deposits.

Lankford said the reason the smaller banks did not bid was that they knew they wouldn't get any of the money anyway.

The Scott County treasurer and collector funds consist of all taxes collected, all grants, disaster relief funds, federal revenue sharing funds and all other money received by the county. The agreement for deposits of county funds are made for a period of two years. In 1971, Scott County received approximately $15,000 in interest and approximately $7,500 in 1972 for a total of $22,500 in the past two years.

Lankford said that regardless of any criticism the court might receive on its decision, it would not change its mind because it was a unanimous vote.

Lankford also said that although some people have said the court left 6 per cent of the money laying on the table, "We were just trying to be fair and give each bank a chance."

He also added he believes tax money should not be invested but rather spent for improvement, adding that if there is too much money for the court to invest, he thinks taxes should be lowered.

Lankford said the collector's funds would be divided the same as the other funds, with the County Court instructing the collector where the money will go. He said the collector's funds cannot be invested in time certificates of deposit and the highest the funds would ever be able to draw would be 4.5 per cent. At the end of each month, the money is divided into the political subdivisions where it was collected, Lankford said.

Leible provides punch

For the first time all year the Sikeston Bulldogs finally beat the weatherman. Despite heavy afternoon rains in the Sikeston area and a tornado watch which was out during the game, the Bulldogs defied Mother Nature and went on to claim their fourth win in five starts, 5-2, over the Cairo Pilots.

John Leible again carried the big stick for Sikeston, his two hits pushing his season's batting mark to .462. The junior catcher was aided in the offensive effort by big first sacker Jim Saulter, who drove in a couple of runs with his two hits. Donnie Taylor had Sikeston's only extra- base hit, a double over the left fielder's head.

After an outstanding relief job in Wednesday's games, Richard Blankenship came right back to start the contest against Cairo. The slim righthander pitched very well in collecting the win, his second in two days. Mitchell Walker got credit for a save with some late relief work.

Blankenship's start was kind of rocky. After fanning the first man in the initial inning, three of the next four batters touched the hurler for hits. However, the last man in the inning grounded into a force play and the game settled down to a pitching duel. Bruce Brinkman, Cairo's secondline hurler, matched goose eggs with Blankenship and the game was scoreless for the first three and a half innings.

Sikeston scored first in the bottom of the fourth inning. Kenny Stokes led off the frame with a single and stole second. John Leible moved him to third, then also swiped second. When Jim Saulter grounded to short, Stokes hesitated and then broke as the shortstop fired to first. The sophomore crossed the plate unmolested with the Bulldog's first tally. Moments later, Rick Dyer and Leible executed a perfect squeeze bunt for the second Sikeston run. With two outs, Rick Eisenbach lashed a hard single to left and Donnie Taylor kept up his power hitting with a long double over the outfielder's head, scoring Eisenbach and giving the Bulldogs a 3-0 lead.

The Bulldogs added two more in the next frame. With one out, Greg Colwick reached on a throwing error by the Cairo third baseman. Stokes advanced him to second. From there he scored on a single by Leible. The hit gave the Sikeston catcher eight hiths in his last eleven at bats. Jim Saulter then followed with his second hit, a single that scored Leible. The Bulldogs led 5-0.

Darrell Flowes, after batting his first two times unsuccessfully righthanded, switched around and swung from the opposite side. The change was a good one for Cairo, as the tall centerfielder hit the ball far out of the park in right field for a home run. When Brickmeyer followed with his second hit, Sikeston coach N. P. McDaniel decided Blankenship had had enough and he brought in another junior, Mitchell Walker. after some initial wildness, settled down and quelched the rally, saving the win for the Bulldogs and Blankenship. Ronnie Woods, the Cairo catcher, got his third hit of the game in the seventh, but he was stranded as Walker retired Flowers and struck out Brinkmeyer to claim the decision.

In the game, the Bulldogs played their "underclassmen" lineup. The starting nine included eight juniors and one sophomore, essentially the same starting lineup that will be employed next season. The team looked relaxed in the win and played well, indicating tha they might be peaking, approximately one week too late.

The next game for S. H. S. is Saturday afternoon at Poplar Bluff against the Mules in a 1 p.m. contest.

Cards lose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco Giants' lefthander Sam McDowell no longer makes batters cringe over his fastball, but he still can find ways to win—like with his bat.

McDowell, though shaky in six innings of work against the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday, triggered a two-run rally in the bottom of the fifth with a bunt single, helping the Giants to a 6-3 victory.

After McDowell dragged a one-out bunt to the right side, Bobby Bonds singled and Tito Fuentes walked, loading the bases. Chris Speier then belted a two-run single, cracking a 3-3 tie.

McDowell, 1-0, and losing pitcher Rick Wise, 3-2, had varying opinions on the key bunt.

"I felt I had to get on somehow, but I've only bunted a couple of times before," said McDowell. "I just lucked out."

Wise countered: "I told our infielders to look out for the bunt and I just missing picking it up. I've seen McDowell do it 100 times—even with two strikes—so it was no surprise."

McDowell allowed three runs, six hits and four walks, while uncorking two wild pitches.

The Giants' other runs came on solo homoers by Willie McCovey, his eighth, and Dave Kingman, plus a two-run triple by Jim Howarth.

Wise's run-scoring triple and Ray Busse's homer accounted for two of the St. Louis runs, but Giants' relief ace Randy Moffitt blanked the Cardinals over the last three innings for his sixth save.

Moffitt now has appeared in half of the clubs' 34 games, working a total of 34 innings and allowing only 25 hits and seven earned runs for a classy 1.85 ERA.

Hayti bombs Bernie,15-8

HAYTI— Coach Jerry Cecil's Indians unleashed an awesome offensive attack to humble the Bernie Mules 15-8 here Thursday afternoon to take the District 12 championship and advance to the state regional at Van Buren.

Hayti bombed two Bernie pitchers for 16 hits including two doubles and four homeruns. Danny White, Randy Gardner, and Mark Cartee hit for the circuit. Gardner smacked two roundtrippers and a double knocking five runs in the game besides being the winning pitcher.

Darrell Smothers started on the mound for the Mules and Hayti began to punch away with the bat in the top of the first inning scoring a run on two base hits.

Gardner held the Mules hitless in the bottom of the frame and the Indians played longball with the Mules ace Dell Walker in the top of the second as Mark Cartee, the Indians second sacker, exploded for a two run shot and shortstop Danny White popped a three run blast for five runs and a 6- 1 lead.

With Walker firing in the third again Hayti got three hits and four runs with two of the runs coming on a homerun blast by Randy Gardner.

Gardner allowed the Mules their first hit in the bottom of the third. Hayti added single runs in the fourth and fifth and held a whopping 12- 0 lead and were anxious to put the game away early because of the ten run rule after five innings but with two out and two on and a 3- 2 count on Smothers Gardner served up a fat pitch and Smothers socked it out of the park for three runs.

Hayti kept the pressure on the Mules as Gardner hit his second homer of the game with one on and the Indians scored their final three runs. With Gardner out of the pitching duties as Tom Alexander came in for the final three outs Bernie collected two hits and with the help of two errors and two walks, scored five runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Hayti will join Kelly and Scott City on a trip to Van Buren to play in the regional. Kelly and Scott City will square off on Friday May 18 and Hayti will be paired against the undefeated Van Buren Bulldogs.

Kelly, Scott City or Hayti have a shot at finishing in the top for teams in the state and representing southeast Missouri in Springfield if one of the three can beat Van Buren in the regional

Kennett athletes top events

Kennett track stars, Tony Smith and David Tippen, are the only Southeast Missouri athletes to rank among the top three in qualifying across the state.

Smith's 53 - feet- four-inch toss of the shot put was the top toss statewide and Tippen's 13 feet, six inch mark in the pole vault also headed that department.

The state event will be conducted Saturday at the University of Missouri in Columbia for class M and S teams.

Knicks NBA champs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Four in a row seems almost impossible," sadly commented the giant Wilt Chamberlain, yet he and his Los Angeles Laker teammates had lost their National Basketball Association title to New York in a virtual sweep.

"New York was the better team," added the 7-foot-1 Laker after the Knicks had hung up a 102-93 victory Thursday night and a 4-1 winning margin in playoff series games.

They had lost the opener and then come back to whip the defending champions four straight and there were few excuses.

"They are well balanced, have tremendous passing and so many good shooters that you can't concentrate on one man. The key to the series was that the defense stopped our running game."

The Knicks' defense throttled the Lakers, particularly when there was a chance of Los Angeles pulling ahead.

Ironically, the Lakers had wanted to play New York in the final series rather than Boston and cheered when the Knicks beat the Celtics in the Eastern playoffs.

Last year, it was Los Angeles 4-1 over the Knicks, who had won the NBA title in 1970 by beating the Lakers.

"I think we had more depth than we did the last time we won the title," commented Knicks' Coach Red Holzman. "We didn't have Jerry Lucas, Earl Monroe or Dean Meminger then."

Monroe took scoring honors for the finale on the New York side with 23 points and Bill Bradley, the Rhodes scholar, added 20.

Dave DeBusschere, who starred two nights previously with 33 points, tallied just one field goal and sprained his right ankle in the fourth quarter when he finally did reach the scoring list.

Willis Reed, the nine-year veteran pro from Grambling, proved tremendous. Three years ago when the Knicks beat the Lakers for the title he was the most valuable in the series. Then his knees were injured. Last year he didn't even play in the finals.

This time he showed more quickness than any time during the season.

Again, a national magazine voted him most valuable and he received a new car.

In the final game, he scored 18 points, grabbed 12 rebounds and had seven assists.

The Lakers had only one excuse. Back court ace Jerry West was hampered by strained hamstring muscles in both legs. The right was bandaged for the finale and he scored only 12 points.

"With Jerry hurt, our quickness, our speed and our running game just aren't the same," said Los Angeles Coach Bill Sharman and even efforts of 28 points by Gail Goodrich and 23 by Chamberlain could not compensate for the bad West underpinnings.

For the winners, Jerry Lucas commented, "I really believe this is the most intelligent team in the history of pro basketball. Everybody on this team is thinking all the time. We don't overpower anybody, we have to finesse them. To do that, you have to play smart, intelligent basketball."

'Embarrassing' for manager

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When you manage the Texas Rangers, you have to scramble sometimes to find a silver lining. So it was with Whitey Herzog Thursday night.

"The only good thing I can say about this is that they can only chalk up one loss against us," the rookie skipper said after the Oakland A's pounded out 23 hits and shelled the Rangers 17- .

Not only that, but Herzog even managed to make himself believe that the outcome might have been different...if.

"It was embarrassing," he conceded, "but we gave them six outs in the first inning and got five runs down and that was the game. If they only score two runs like they should have, we're in good shape."

True. Then the final score would have only been 14-2.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Chicago White Sox edged California 4-3 in 12 innings, Kansas City trounced Detroit 8-2 and Boston nipped Cleveland 4-3. In the only National League action, San Francisco beat St. Louis 6-3.

It resembled batting practice for the A's as nine of them got more than one hit, including rookie catcher Tim Hosley, just up from the minors.

Reggie Jackson doubled home the first two runs against Mike Paul, Ray Fosse singled home another and Dick Green singled for two more. Fosse hit a two-run homer in the fifth, Hosley delivered a two-run single as the A's scored five more in the eighth and Deron Johnson homered for one of four runs in the ninth.

"Us starting pitchers are always griping about not getting enough runs," said Ken Holtzman, 6-2, who allowed only three hits and one unearned run in seven innings. "Then a night like tonight comes along and you begin to realize that most things tend to even out."

Pat Kelly singled home Jorge Orta from second base in the 12th inning to give the White Sox and Wilbur Wood their victory over California. After Bill Singer held Chicago to three hits over 11 innings, Ron Perranoski came on in the 12th and walked Orta. Luis Alvarado sacrificed before Kelly delivered his winning hit.

Fred Patek's triple touched off a tie-breaking five-run outburst against Joe Coleman in the fifth inning as Kansas City thrashed Detroit. Patek's threebagger scored Carl Taylor, who led off the inning with a bunt single.

Boston, held without a hit or a baserunner for 5 2-3 innings by Cleveland's Dick Tidrow, rallied for three runs against Jerry Johnson in the eighth to edge the Indians.

Chris Speier's two-run single in the fifth inning snapped a 3-3 tie and boosted San Francisco past St. Louis. Willie McCovey and Dave Kingman homered for the Giants, Ray Busse for the Cardinals, who lost for the 21st time in 27 games.

Indy observers eye zoo MPH lap

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Where is that 200 miles-per-hour lap so freely predicted for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway this year?

"It's still over there in the garage area, in the minds of the drivers who will have to do it," said one seasoned observer. "I think it will come ... when the tension builds up during qualifying."

Another pit roader pointed to the top of the front stretch grandstand and commented, "You won't see a 200 mile lap at the speedway as long as that pennant up there continues to flutter in the wind. That's the key — no wind, good track conditions and a perfect car-driver."

With only two practice sessions left—a 9 a.m.-6 p.m. shift today and a 90-minute warmup Saturday -close to the magic barrier heading into the first weekend of qualifying for the May 28 500-mile race, richest motoring event in the world.

The mad scramble for positions in the 33-car starting field begins at 11 a.m. EST Saturday. At least 40 drivers were to participate in a late afternoon drawing to gain assignments for the first session under the clock, when the pole position will be at stake.

Their target will be Bobby Unser's track record speed of 196.678 m.p.h. for one lap and 195.940 for four laps, or 10 miles, set last year. Unser himself has been slowly gearing up for a shot at his mark.

Until today's final warmups, however, 25-year-old Swede Savage had been the closest to the 200 mark. The second-year driver from Santa Anna, Calif., posted an unofficial 197.802 last Saturday, during what track observers said were perfect weather and track conditions.

Turkey hunt called off

JEFFERSON CITY— The Missouri turkey season finished May 6 as a complete success in virtually all corners of the state.

In some of the Ozarks bad weather limited hunting success early in the season and in some river areas, flooding changed the expected hunting pattern-- in one county, stopped hunting entirely--- but over most of the state, the turkey bag was up and so were hunter numbers.

For the first time, hunters could take a possible two birds. They could take one legal (bearded) bird in the first segment of the season, April 24- 29, and a second one from April 30- May 6.

The largest reported bird was a 29- pounder. The state record is 33 pounds, 12 ounces. One of the largest birds was taken by 16- year-old Ted Cash of Willow Springs who has won a number of turkey calling contests.

He claimed a 27-pounder. His mother, Helen, has won several calling contests, but doesn't hunt. His father, Dallas, also is a contest winner.

Possibly the oldest hunter--- almost certainly the oldest consistently successful hunter--- Is Perry McClenahan, Festus, who took his ninth bird since 1961, a 25- pounder. He is 87.

In New Madrid County, although the season technically was open, a local sportsman's club which leases most of the turkey woods in the largely agricultural Bootheel county, stopped hunting the limited flock of birds because flood waters had concentrated the birds on levees where they would be easy prey. Conservation agent Bob Henrickson moved feed to the estimated 100 birds by boat each day.

Burl Elliott, Bolivar, had the 29- pound bird, taken in Polk County on the Pomme de Terre River. Fred Bradley, DeSoto, claimed a 27:04 trophy in Ste. Genevieve County.

Three 26- pounders were claimed by Mike Sehmelze, Ste. Genevieve; G. Andy Runge, Mexico; Ed Dooms, Ava, Runge's in Monroe County and Dooms' in Douglas County. Other gobblers of 25 pounds or more were claimed by Richard Barr, Ste. Genevieve; Lewis Kirchner, Bloomsdale; Gerald Flynn, St. Louis; Wilfred Hogginmiller and Mike Herzog, both from Weingarten; Robert Yates, Pevely; Dick Wallace, Ava; James D. Robinson, Ballwin; Charles Fallers, New Offenburg; Bob Noce, Festus; and Ralph Charleville, Crystal City.

Gary Rivolts, Florissant, was the only archer to report success in the first six days. Rick Seibel, a 14- year- old from Ste. Genevieve, was one of the first to report a second bird-- a 25- pounder.

Crog homers

BERNIE— The Bernie Mules ran their record to 11-1 in a Stoddard County Conference win over Advance 8- 5 Wednesday afternoon. Steve Carson fanned nine of the Hornets and walked two on his way to the victory.

The first inning produced runs for both teams, with Bernie taking a slight edge. The Mules pulled away during the second as their bats came through with power, giving them a 7- 2 advantage.

Advance brought runs across in the third and fifth, but it was not enough to catch Bernie.

Darrell Croy had the only extra base hit of the game with a home run.

Smothers led the Mules in RBI's with four. Bernie will face Hayti today in the finals of District play.

Denbow elected to district post

Rev. Gary Denbow

At the recent convention of the Southern Missouri District Council of the Assemblies of God at First Assembly of God Church, the Rev. Gary Denbow of Maryland Heights was elected by ministers and delegates from nearly 400 churches to serve as district director of youth and education.

The Rev. Mr. Denbow was born and reared in the Sikeston area, attended Sikeston public schools and graduated in 1964. He received a bachelor of science in education degree from Southeast Missouri State University at Cape Girardeau in 1969.

While attending college he and his wife, the former Doris Alsup, organized an Assembly of God Church in Perryville. After graduation from college the Rev. Mr. Denbow assumed duties as pastor of Northwest Assembly of God Church in Maryland Heights. The congregation being small, the Rev. Mr. Denbow taught school in the St. Louis public schools.

With the growth of the church, the Rev. Mr. Denbow was asked to serve full-time. In the last year church attendance has doubled, the income tripled, the property was doubled in size and a $100,000 building which will triple the seating capacity is almost complete. In addition, the church has added four buses to better minister to the metropolitan area.

In his new district position, the Rev. Mr. Denbow will have charge of promotion and advancement of the Sunday Schools and youth programs for nearly 400 Assembly of God churches in Missouri south of the Missouri River. He will also plan and direct the camping program on the Lake of the Ozarks for more than 2,000 boys and girls during the summer months.

The Rev. Mr. Denbow and his wife have one daughter, Judith Anne. They will live in Springfield, the district and national headquarters of the Assemblies of God.

Missionary to speak to Malden, Bernie churches

MALDEN — The Rev. Robert Mackish, Assemblies of God missionary to Eastern Europe, will be guest speaker Sunday night for services at First Assembly of God Church in Malden, and on Wednesday night he will speak at the Assembly of God Church in Bernie.

Born in the United States of Russian and Polish parents, the Rev. Mr. Mackish gained a knowledge of European culture at an early age. Later he also traveled in 12 countries on the European continent while stationed at an Army base in Germany.

During their first four years of missionary service, the Rev. Mr. Mackish and his wife Bonnie lived in Vienna, Austria. He traveled throughout Eastern Europe visiting churches in Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Mrs. Mackish is a registered nurse. The couple has two teen- age children, Deborah and David.

During these special services, the Rev. Mr. Mackish will relate church conditions in Eastern Europe and show slides of the Assemblies of God work in these countries.

The Rev. D. B. Shaw is pastor of the Malden church and the Rev. Sherwood Moore is pastor of the Bernie church. Both services will begin at 7:30 p.m.

VBS plans set at Risco church

RISCO — First Baptist Church has announced plans to hold its annual Vacation Bible School Monday through Friday, June 4-8, with a picnic on Saturday, June 9, and commencement on Sunday evening, June 10.

Witness mission to open tonight

LILBOURN — The Lilbourn United Methodist Church will be host to its second lay witness mission tonight through Sunday.

The first such mission took place three years ago.

The program consists basically of Christian lay people, men and women, who come to give wittness to the workings of God in their lives. They usually represent several different denominations and many come from outside the state.

Today's program includes a carry-in dinner at 6:30 p.m. and service at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday activities open with small group meetings in homes at 10 a.m. A picnic for everyone takes place at noon. At 6:30 p.m. there will be another carry- in dinner and a service follows at 7:30.

Sunday morning members of the witness team will share their experiences in the Sunday School classes, and the morning worship service begins at 10:45 a.m.

The three- day event closes at 7:30 p.m. Sunday with a service of review and consecration.

Bill Tope is the local lay co- ordinator and Nadine Collier is in charge of housing arrangements. Algeron Turner is in charge of the morning coffees, and Myrtle Ice, Myrtle Simpson and Lucile Baughman are in charge of meals and refreshments.

Early services planned

MALDEN — Community worship services for early risers will be held during the summer months at First Presbyterian Church.

The services will be non-denominational and informal dress will be stressed, thus allowing travelers or persons en route to activities to come dressed as they are.

The services will be held at 7 a.m. as a convenience for travelers and other persons who wish to attend worship services early on Sunday mornings.

The Rev. T. K. Prentice, pastor, will be the speaker for the early services. Free coffee will be served after the services each Sunday.

Risco pastor baptizes 12

RISCO — The Rev. Vernon Self, pastor of the Risco General Baptist Church, baptized 12 candidates Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Malden First General Baptist Church.

Two candidates were baptized in an open stream.

This week's Uniform INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Dr. William H. Taft

FOR MAY 13, 1973

Scripture: Acts 11:4-18; Galatians 3:23-19; Ephesians 2:11-22; I John 4:7-12

CHRIST MAKES MEN BROTHERS

Only through Christ can all barriers that divide men be removed. The love of God, climaxed in the cross, makes one family of all people.

Through the speed of today's communication systems the world continues to become smaller to all of us insofar as our knowledge of what occurs elsewhere is concerned.

The astronauts showed us how small the earth is when viewed on television. And their experiences in outer space revealed to them how great God is. The men in space developed a new outlook on life after their encounter in space.

Today's memory selection points out that "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus."

This philosophy was brought home recently when a few anonymous phone calls reached the fraternity house and some others threatened to burn a cross on the lawn.

Nevertheless, nothing happened to either the fraternity or the new members.

Jesus experienced difficulty in breaking down the walls that divide people from people. The church leaders have the same problems today. And communities encounter the same situations.

Centuries ago St. Clement of Alexandria said that "When you see your brother, you see God." And Erasmus wrote that "Your brother needs your help but you meanwhile mumble your little prayers to God, pretending not to see your brother's need."

Today's Christian is caught in a world of tension. What should he do to create a better brotherhood in his own neighborhood? What should he do about divisions within his own church?

Paul's writings reveal how it is possible to do away with man-made barriers that separate the races. The Gentiles were alienated from the Jewish people.

The Gentiles were strangers to the covenants that God had given to Abraham and others in the Old Testament days.

Like so many persons today, the Gentiles' religion was hopeless, without any divine promise for the future. The Gentiles were pagans with so many "gods" that they even erected idols to "unknown" gods.

Paul offered these people a new way of living, joining with other Christians in worshiping a "real" god.

Using this same philosophy, today we could unite the Russians with the Americans through the worship of the same God. Should Christians all over the world unite, peace could become a reality.

"For He is our peace, who has made us both one, and has broken down the dividing wall of hostility," wrote Paul. When Christ suffered on the cross, He bore in His flesh the enmity between man and God and the hostility between Jew and Gentile.

In John we are advised that as Christians we are commanded to love one another. God's love inspires ours and our love perfects His love. So every man has a duty toward his neighbor.

This lesson has much in common with today's ecumenical concerns. Unfortunately, since Paul's days our churches have become divided.

We have separation between Protestants and Catholics and between the Protestants themselves. And Christians are separated from the Buddhists, Hindus, Mohammedans, and others.

Such barriers will never be removed until we first remove the barriers that exist in our own neighborhoods. Each person must first welcome Christ, accept His promises, and have faith.

Victory Voices to appear at Assembly

Nancy Harmon and the Victory Voices of San Jose, Calif., will appear May 16-20 at First Assembly of God Church where the Rev. T. A. McDonough is pastor. Services will begin at 7 p.m. This well known group has appeared on television talk shows and has been featured in the "Rotunda Room" in California's state capitol. Besides churches, their itenerary includes high schools, colleges, Army bases, hospitals, ghettos and hippie areas, and just recently they returned from a tour of the West Indes.

Malden quiz team wins top honors

The Malden group competed against approximately 30 other youngsters from seven area churches to take the team trophy, in addition to the five individual trophies given to top quizzers.

Others participating from Malden were Kay Hicks, Sherry Baker and Sandy Wallace. Directors for the group are Mavalene Hicks and Mary Ellen Boner.

Bible school plans set for May 21-25

PORTAGEVILLE — First Church of God will have its annual Vacation Bible School May 21 through May 25. The theme this year will be "We Look To Jesus".

Classes will start each day at 8:30 and go till 11:30 a.m. The program will consist of a time for worship, song time and a craft period.

Ages for the Vacation Bible School will be nursery through the 6th grade.

The staff will include director of school, Joy Dean Stewart; secretary, Norma Lou Richardson; nursery department, Linda Thompson; teachers, Ailene Young, Deborah Graham, Mildred Townsend; assistant music director, Pat Stout, pianist, Michele Richardson.

Kindergarten — Karen Silman, teacher; Vera Stout, assistant.

Primary — Janice Henderson, teacher; Imogene Hanna, assistant.

Middle — Virginia Adams, teacher; Linda Murphy, assistant.

Juniors — Maxine Hayes, teacher; Donna Cayton, assistant.

The closing program will be held May 24 at 7 p.m.

Information concerning the school or transportation information needed, call 379-5670.

VBS slated next week

MALDEN— Vacation Bible School will being Monday at First Christian Church and will be in session each morning of next week from 9 to 11:30.

All youngsters to grade nine are invited to attend. Each session will include Bible lessons, crafts and games.

A picnic will be held after the last session of the school on Friday. A program will be presented that night at the church at 7:30 p.m.

Serving as directors for the school will be the minister, Richard Davison, Sharyn Lane, Karen House and Bette Keene. Mrs. Wendell Crosby will be in charge of crafts and Mrs. Everett Cook will direct the music.

Vinson church hosts meeting

BERNIE— Vinson General Baptist Church was host Tuesday night for a meeting of the Tri- County General Baptist churches.

Puxico and Bernie churches were the only churches represented due to inclement weather. Bernie won first place in the Bible quiz.

Mary White receives $500 scholarship

NEW MADRID — Miss Mary Ruth White of Marston, a senior at Lilbourn high school, is the recipient of the 1973 Bank of New Madrid $500 scholarship, Sam L. Hunter Jr., president, announced today.

Dr. Robert W. Foster, assistant to the president of Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau, chairman of a committee from the university, who made the selection, said "The committee was most impressed with the credentials of all the nominees."

Other finalists were Ruth E. Slayton of Matthews, Marie Pope of Parma, Steven Eugene Cross of Portageville and David Statler of New Madrid.

Mary Ruth White

In addition to a high academic record, she has participated in many activities, including editor of the school newspaper, member of the student council, member of the chorus, girls' sextet and the concert choir. She is a member of the National Society of Outstanding High School Students and attended the 19th annual National Beta Club convention in St. Louis.

Miss White, who wants to pursue a musical career at Southeast Missouri State University this fall, said "music has always been an important part of my life. I would like to teach music to children so they can experience the joy and fulfillment received by letting music into their hearts." She said she agreed with Plato, who said "Music is more potent than any other language because rhythm and harmony find their way into the inward places of the soul."

Superintendent of Schools George S. Reuter Jr. expressed praise for the concern of quality education by Hunter and the bank and said "It is public- spirited people and institutions that inspire our youth to live more complete and useful lives."

Bell City to host scholastic meet

Bluff man dies in 3 car crash

CEDAR HILL, Mo.—(AP)-Two persons died Thursday night in a three-car collision on Missouri 30 just east of here in Jefferson County, police said.

Mary L. Layton, 36, of Eureka and Van Harvey Powell, 52, of Poplar Bluff died when the car Powell was driving crossed the centerline, sideswiping one car and then crashing head-on into the a car in which Mrs. Layton was a passenger, police said.

The driver of that car, Bobby L. Ramsey Sr., 35, of Valley Park, was seriously injured and taken to a St. Louis County hospital, authorities said. The driver and a passenger in the third automobile were also injured in the wreck and hospitalized.

Robert Roney will deliver New Madrid graduation address

NEW MADRID— Dr. Robert Roney, director of the University of Tennessee center for advanced graduate study in Memphis, Tenn., will deliver the commencement address Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Fifty- seven seniors, 29 boys and 28 girls, will be awarded diplomas by A.C. Riley, member of the New Madrid County R- 1 board of education.
